FIRE DEATH TOLL MOUNTS AS RUINS SEARCHED

Franco War Planes Stage Biggest Raid Barcelona Has Seen

Estimated 150 Persons Killed in Spanish Loyalist City

Valencia And Other Points Bombed

BARCELONA, Spain (AP)—An insurgent air squadron today subjected Barcelona to the worst bombardment in its history and officials estimated 150 persons were killed and at least 200 wounded.

Six huge bombers, evidently from the insurgent base at Palma, Mallorca, Balearic Islands, appeared over the government capital shortly after noon and loosed scores of powerful bombs.

The destruction of several apartment houses caused casualties to run to high figures. Fifty bodies had been taken from the wreckage soon after the raid.

VALENCIA BOMBED

MADRID (AP)—More than 100 deaths and heavy damage were caused today by terrific insurgent air bombardments of Barcelona and Valencia, government Spain's two principal east coast cities.

Several other smaller towns suffered as the insurgents continued their week-long raids along the Mediterranean coast.

A defence ministry communique said more than 100 persons were killed and many others injured in Barcelona.

HOSPITAL BOMBED

Valencia was attacked from the air three times within 12 hours. Numerous bombs were dropped on a Red Cross hospital, where the number of victims was not known, and on a shore resort.

"Material damages there were heavy and the numbers of victims exceedingly large," the communique said.

Six insurgent bombing planes from Palma, on the island of Mallorca, carried out the Barcelona raid. Many large bombs were dropped in the heart of the city. Military reports said some buildings were demolished and others damaged heavily.

Eighteen Planes At Pearl Harbor

Naval Flying Boats Alight After 21½-hour Trip From California

HONOLULU (AP)—Swooping down through bright tropical moonlight into the glare of searchlights, 18 big United States navy bombing planes from California landed on Pearl Harbor before dawn today, completing the mass flight in record breaking time.

The first plane landed at 5.48 a.m., P.S.T., just 20 hours 30 minutes after the "official takeoff" time from San Diego, Calif.

The second plane, the blue flames of its exhaust flashing in the darkness, alighted two minutes later and the other craft followed in rapid succession.

The unofficial flight time for the 2,570 miles bettered the previous U.S. naval mark of 21 hours 25 minutes set by a squadron of 12 planes in another "routine transfer" from San Diego nine months ago.

Each of the big flying boats carried seven officers and men.

Sixteen Trapped In Ceylon Mine

COLOMBO, Ceylon (CP-Reuters)—Weeping wives and children surrounded the pithead at a Plumbago mine today, awaiting word of 16 miners trapped below the surface.

An explosion Tuesday night released a gush of water from a disused section of the workings that engulfed 25 of the 250 men working 150 feet below the ground.

Cache of Stolen Goods Hunted

VANCOUVER (CP)—The "old house under the big bridge" was still unidentified today.

Detectives sought the place after an anonymous note had been left at the city police station. The note said a cache of stolen goods would be found in the place.

SAW LOG CUT SETS RECORD

Government Scale Shows 1929 Level Passed; Half Is Douglas Fir

British Columbia last year established a new record for production of saw logs, the official government log scale showed today.

The figures issued by the forest branch gave the saw log scale as 3,035,552,896 board feet. This was an increase of 212,000,000 board feet over the 1936 scale of 2,823,757,655 feet and 95,000,000 feet greater than the previous high mark of 1929, 2,940,000,000 feet.

In overall forest production, however, 1937 was slightly short of 1929 due to a decrease in the pole and tie output of the interior.

Last year's scale was as follows, with comparisons for 1936 in brackets; saw logs, f.b.m. 3,035,552,896 (2,823,757,655); lineal feet (poles, etc.) 22,116,128 feet (14,268,973); cords 155,494 (170,511); hewn ties 1,191,435 (1,325,213).

Douglas fir, the backbone of the lumbering industry, accounted for just over 50 per cent of the saw log scale, with cedar, spruce and balsam next in order.

The following table shows the cut by species in board feet; Douglas fir 1,587,492,115; cedar 467,275,733; spruce 179,886,721; balsam 93,900,179; yellow pine 43,767,890; white pine 35,361,947; lodge pole pine 7,318,047; larch 36,416,197; cottonwood 3,834,511; miscellaneous 5,371,690.

From This Wreckage May Come New U.S. Air Laws

While the United States Congress has started action on new aviation legislation, investigation into recent plane crashes are being pressed. One of the chief centres of study is the wreckage of the big air liner that lies on a mountainside 14 miles from Bozeman, Montana, where 10 persons met death. The special investigating board appointed by Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper was at the snowy scene when this picture was taken.

Japan Throwing More Troops Into Big China Battle

SHANGHAI (AP)—A Reinforced Japanese offensive against the Lunghai railroad was forecast today in intensive preparations to use Tsingtao, conquered Shantung Province seaport, as a base for a drive into the interior.

A force of 400,000 Chinese along the Lunghai, China's main east-west railway, blocked Japanese efforts to consolidate their north China and Shanghai area conquests. Japanese columns advancing from the north and south on Suchow, main Lunghai junction point, still were 200 miles apart.

TROOPS LANDED

Japanese landed some 10,000 troops, large stocks of munitions and artillery, horses and tanks at Tsingtao, linked by the Shantung railway with the Tsinpu, route of the Japanese southward drive on Suchow.

The Japanese military spokesman said Chinese had their strongest defence works in the Lunghai vicinity, which separates the Japanese-conquered territory immediately north of Shanghai from the region dominated by Japanese North China armies.

The Japanese column advancing north from Nanking was unable to break through the Chinese lines to occupy Pengu, midway between Nanking and Suchow. Japanese said Chinese had been beaten off twice in counter-attacks.

DEATH SENTENCE

PEACE RIVER, Alta. (CP)—Edward Gougeon was convicted today of the murder of his wife, Alma Gougeon, and sentenced to be hanged March 30. The jury which heard the case deliberated only 35 minutes.

Tug Men Walk On Ice to Shore

PORT STANLEY, Ont. (CP)—Captain Edward Payne of the tug Stewart B. notified port authorities here this afternoon he had received word seven men stranded in two tugs in Lake Erie ice had abandoned the Dover Clipper and the Ferroclad and walked five miles to shore near Erieau, 40 miles west of this lake port.

Fears had been expressed the men, missing since they had left Erieau early Tuesday morning to pick up fish nets, had been carried far out into the lake by an ice jam which was drifting before a strong wind yesterday at two miles an hour.

The men on the Dover Clipper were owner, Karl Kolbe, Captain John Matthews, both of Port Dover, and Charles Pillon and Jack Faulis of Erieau aboard. The Ferroclad was skippered by Captain Hartley Martin of Port Dover with John Taylor and Irving Nichol of Erieau as crew.

Evidence Comes As Surprise

H. Pickles, at Bank Robbery Hearing in Vancouver, Says He Saw C. H. Cahan

VANCOUVER (CP)—A surprise witness told Judge J. N. Ellis in County Court here today he talked with a man, whom he identified as C. H. Cahan, and saw him enter the Canadian Bank of Commerce Dunbar branch a few minutes before the bank was held up December 1.

Harry Pickles, retired candy salesman, gave his testimony after strenuous objection by Cahan, a lawyer, on trial for the robbery, who is conducting his own defence.

Earlier, Cahan had told the court he probably would take the stand later in his own defence.

Pattullo, at 65, Undisputed Boss

Premier Being Honored Today; Long Career in Provincial Life

By LESLIE FOX

"We do not apologize; we simply give reasons for our actions."

When Premier Pattullo made this statement during the last session of the Legislature he was merely explaining some minor piece of government policy which had produced criticism. But into those dozen words he packed the philosophy which took him to the top, and keeps him on top, of British Columbia's political ladder.

Today Thomas Dufferin Pattullo is 65. Tonight in Vancouver he will be honored by men from all walks of life at a banquet.

The climb up the political ladder was not always easy. It took him a long time to achieve the recognition he has today, even from his own party.

Early in his cabinet days, the post-war period, he made bad friends among his own supporters by his outspoken stand in party councils, his dislike of "backing and filling," and his de-

Tientsin Chinese Is Protected By British

SHANGHAI (CP)—British authorities at Tientsin have refused to comply with a Japanese request to hand over a Chinese resident in the British concession.

The Japanese threatened to go into the concession and take him. British military authorities replied: "We will be compelled to resist." The Japanese did not press the matter further.

Quebec College Debris Yields Bodies of 19; 26 Listed As Missing

Only Four of Dead In Holocaust At Sacred Heart College, St. Hyacinthe, Are Identified; Last Rites Administered To Five Near Death From Injuries

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

ST. HYACINTHE, Que.—Embers of the destroyed Sacred Heart College today yielded up two blackened skulls. Their discovery raised the toll of known dead from yesterday's fire to 19, with 26 more unreported.

Five of the injured, under shadow of death, had the last rites of the church administered to them in St. Charles Hospital today.

Salvage crews digging through the frozen ruins of the four-story boarding school in sub-zero weather found the two scorched skulls at noon. They were unable to say whether they were remains of students or teaching Brothers.

FIRST HOPE WANES

Today as groups of townsfolk walked to church to say special prayers for the victims, hopes that held high yesterday were faltering. School officials and relatives and friends of the boys had felt many of those reported missing might have escaped from the holocaust and found refuge with neighboring families. No one had time to make a house-to-house check in yesterday's turmoil, and it was felt at least some of those reported missing would turn up later.

The recovery of bones by firemen today left little basis for hope.

Of the list of 19 known dead, compiled only from the bodies found, 15 were unidentified. The 26 unreported, surviving school authorities said, had "failed to answer the roll."

SEARCH CONTINUES

In the mass of twisted pipes, radiators, iron pillars, giant beams and tons of concrete and brick, searchers carried on their hazardous digging this afternoon inside walls which retained their full height only in narrow, spectre-like sections. Not a single pillar or beam was left to support the brick walls that threatened to crash with the first wind.

Parents and relatives still waited about for definite word.

On most of the bodies recovered there was nothing that could be recognized. In some cases there was a wrist watch, some trinket or a bit of clothing that might help.

FIVE ARE DYING

Forced to leap from the fourth floor of the blazing school when flames cut off all exits, two brothers and three students are expected to die of their injuries.

RESCUED MAN SEEKS "BREAK"

Was "Beating Way on Boat" to Work Way to Mine Field

"I can rustle for myself without help from the government, if I can get a break. That's all I want."

Twenty-six-year-old Edward G. Griffith of Kenora, Ont., who was snatched from death by drowning in the Inner Harbor last night by John B. McKay, 2117 Yew Street, Vancouver, made the comment this morning in a hospital cot in the Jubilee Hospital. He also expressed thanks to Mr. McKay who plunged into the water from the after deck of the Princess Joan to save him.

Griffith fell into the sea as he attempted to "beat his way" on the boat to Vancouver by climbing a stern hawser from the dock to the boat, three-quarters of an hour before she pulled out at midnight. A suitcase strapped to his back hampered efforts to save himself and he had been down for the second time when Mr. McKay jumped in the water.

As he tossed restlessly in a cot at the Jubilee Hospital this morning, where he is recovering from his chill and suffering from a cold, Griffith told of his desire for a break that would take him into the newly-discovered gold fields of Zeballos, where he might ply his trade as a steel sharpener.

Loud in his praises of Mr. McKay's valiant act, Griffith told how he had been trying to get back to Vancouver to get a few days' work in order to get the fare to Zeballos.

"I was born in Kenora, 26 years ago and came to British Columbia in 1932, hitch-hiking, working and beating my way.

Fasting Dean's Wife Is Ill

Very Rev. I. H. Noe, Memphis, Tenn., Prevented From Attending Convention

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Prevented from attending the state diocesan convention of the Episcopal Church at Knoxville by the sudden illness of his wife, the fasting Dean Israel Harding Noe of fashionable St. Mary's Cathedral here expressed hope today her condition would permit him to attend Thursday's session.

Mrs. Noe fainted at the deanery Tuesday night only a few minutes before the clergyman planned to depart.

A doctor said the strain of the last few weeks had been too much for her.

The dean's attempt to achieve earthly immortality by fasting was preceded by a progressive programme over a period of years, leading to his living last year on orange juice alone, and giving that up January 2 except for the wine and wafer of communion services thrice weekly.

Many Ask Special Numbers for Cars

Numerology, Cribbage, Poker, Superstitions Play Part in License Requests

Car owners of British Columbia who want to reserve a special number for 1938 must send their application and money to motor license headquarters before February 1, officials announced today.

Actual sales of licenses starts that day and when the rush begins clerks will be too busy to make particular reservations. If applications are in ahead of time officials said they will do their best to meet them.

Already hundreds of people have written to the branch asking for special licenses. Their applications reveal many interesting sidelights.

Favorites with the car owners, of course, are their home street numbers and telephone numbers. This appears to be part of a general desire to get easily remembered numbers. There are lots of requests for round figures, such as 50, 100, 500, 1,000, 10,000 and so forth.

"Some people want easy numbers so they can find their car without trouble in a crowd," said an official of the branch. "It is surprising how often a man will come out from a movie and climb into someone else's car of the same make. When he has a simple numbers like 444, or 111, or an even hundred it sticks in his mind better."

Superstitutions and lucky beliefs play a big part in the requests. Some people do not want anything with a 13 or a 9 in it, or divisible by these factors. Others clamor to get them.

Strange are those who believe in numerology.

"I have seen a person practically break into tears if we offered him a certain combination of numbers," the official said. "He feared his life for the year would be dominated by the adverse figures."

Lucky 7 and 11 come in for requests with the various combinations of them. Some people like cribbage hands, such as 45645 or poker hands like 66999.

Car owners who are renewing their licenses may use the 1938 plates after February 1 although the license year does not start until March 1, the branch announced. This ruling does not apply, however, to those obtaining new car licenses.

Two Fliers Rescued From Halifax Bay

R.C.M.P. Pilots Taken From Cove After Fall of Tangled Machines

HALIFAX (CP)—Two pilots of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police marine division were rescued uninjured from the waters of Tuft's Cove today after their planes had tangled in mid-air and crashed.

The two, each flying a Halifax aero club craft, Arthur Lemaistre of Winnipeg and Roy Holton of Ottawa, were in formation when their wing-tips locked. They were able, however, to pancake on the water and avoid a nose-dive.

One plane sank a few minutes after it had hit the water, while the other seriously damaged, was towed to land. The pilots were picked up by a fisherman.

Holton is a student pilot, waiting to take teses for his pilot's license, while Lemaistre is a licensed pilot.

Trade-Defence Views Exchanged

LONDON (CP Cable)—From noon until 2 p.m. Prime Minister Chamberlain and President Eamon de Valera discussed Anglo-Irish relations today preparatory to turning questions of trade and defence over to experts for further study.

The Irish president and his colleagues were to meet the British ministers again at 3 p.m. for a final session. The talks then were to be adjourned to allow the experts to complete the spadework necessary before any concrete agreement can be formulated. This will take weeks, perhaps months.

M'GEER SAYS POLICIES GAIN

Vancouver M.P. States Three By-elections Aid United Canada Moves

CALGARY (CP) — Passing through Calgary on his way to Ottawa, G. G. McGeer, M.P., Vancouver-Burrard, in an interview Tuesday night, said he was "certainly pleased with the results of recent by-elections in St. Henry, Montreal, Victoria and Lotbiniere.

"This indicates," he said, "that Canada fully appreciates the world situation.

"The people are solidly behind the government today in its united Canada programme. Public opinion is ready to realize Canada should take its real place in the British Empire."

ALBERTA CHANGES

Asked what he thought of the present situation in Alberta, Mr. McGeer said:

"Alberta must realize sooner or later that a province has limited power of government, and may institute only those reforms which are approved of by other provinces and the Dominion as a whole.

"Alberta is such a delightful place with such a delightful climate and such delightful people that her affairs will undoubtedly straighten out soon."

Asked to define what was meant by "straighten out," Mr McGeer continued:

"A reform which is essentially of national scope cannot be successful in one province until the others are prepared to accept and support it. It must be a national programme, backed by public opinion.

"The unfortunate part of the present situation is that however worthy a reform may be, when it is not supported by public opinion in other provinces, it is likely to act as a setback rather than a step forward."

EVIDENCE COMES AS SURPRISE

"I talked with Cahan for a few minutes," said Pickles, "and then he disappeared in the bank. A few minutes later I saw the bank manager and teller racing for the corner. They fired five to eight shots.

A few minutes earlier, Pickles said, he passed the waiting car used by the bandit in his escape, and almost turned off the running motor.

"I thought someone forgot to turn off the engine, and I nearly did it myself," he explained. "I thought the car belonged to a neighbor. I didn't know it was your car," he said, turning to Cahan.

"Don't call it my car," Cahan shouted. "Call it the bandit car."

"Is this the overcoat the bandit wore," Cahan asked, showing an exhibit to the witness.

"I could tell better if you put it on," said the witness.

"Let someone else put it on," said Cahan.

Then Pickles examined the coat.

"Yes, that is very like the coat you were wearing," said Pickles.

"Don't say 'you'," Cahan shouted again. "Say 'the bandit.'"

Both Walter Owen, prosecutor, and Cahan had difficulty in obtaining information from Pickles. He was rebuked by Judge Ellis for his answers.

"Witness answer questions and don't make speeches," Judge Ellis said.

KIDNAPPER IN ST. PAUL, MINN.

P. Anders, Confessed Slayer of Charles S. Ross, Chicago, Heavily Guarded

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Federal agents kept close watch today over Peter Anders, brought here in a surprise move after his arrest on the west coast for the kidnapping and killing of Charles S. Ross, retired Chicago manufacturer, last September.

Led by their chief, J. Edgar Hoover, the officers of the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation swooped into St. Paul by airplane Tuesday night with their heavily manacled captive, who was seized Friday at the Santa Anita racetrack near Los Angeles.

Anders, called by Hoover the self-confessed kidnapper and slayer of Ross and the killer of his associate in the crime, J. Atwood Gray, was transferred from the plane to an automobile under cover of machine guns and then whisked to the downtown office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for safekeeping.

Beyond a terse announcement the prisoner, a curly-haired man about 30 years old, was being taken to Chicago, Hoover refused to explain the stop here. From commercial airline officials, however, came the information their planes were making scheduled flights.

This morning, several carloads of agents left the Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters here for an undisclosed destination.

No one was permitted to accompany them. Whether Hoover was among them could not be learned. It was considered possible they were seeking the bodies of the men they believe Anders slew or money he may have cached.

The F.B.I. chief heightened the mystery surrounding the flight when replying to questions, he denied Anders was a suspect in the kidnap-slaying of 10-year-old Charles Mattson at Tacoma, but said the prisoner was being questioned "about some other kidnappings. Hoover did not elaborate.

NANAIMO PAIR 57 YEARS WED

Parents of Alderman James Adam of Victoria Mark Event of 1888

NANAIMO — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adam of Victoria Road, respected pioneers of Nanaimo, on Monday celebrated the 57th anniversary of their wedding.

They were married in Scotland, where both were born. In 1891 Mr. Adam arrived in Nanaimo, and when he became established he was followed two years later by Mrs. Adam and their three sons, who grew to manhood in this city.

For years Mr. Adam worked in the Nanaimo mines. He was fireboss for a long period, and when he retired some years ago was underground superintendent in the Protection Mine.

Their sons, who were with them on their wedding anniversary, are Alderman James Adam of Victoria; William Adam, master mechanic of the Western Fuel Corporation of Canada, Nanaimo, and George Adam, who is special relief officer in the provincial government service at Ladysmith. The venerable couple have eight grandchildren.

"Jimmy" Adam came of his love of sports naturally, for his father for years was a prominent member of the old Nanaimo United football executive. He was fond of rifle shooting and, in fact, was a keen follower of all branches of sport.

FIRE DEATH TOLL MOUNTS AS RUINS SEARCHED

Prepared by the priest for death were Brother Adjutor, 36, born Plamondon, Ste. Madeleine, Que.; Brother Alexis, 27, born Tessier, Woonsocket, R.I.; Francois Plouffe, 14, Montreal; Robert Chaput, 15, Ste. Pie de Bagot, Que., and Rene Belhumeur, 17, St. Guillaume D'Upton, Que.

Grief-stricken relatives of the dead and missing stood today in tense, silent groups at the morgue.

College authorities revised identification of the dead after a careful check today and changed the list of unreported teachers and students, although the total remained unaltered.

IDENTIFIED DEAD

Only four of the 19 dead have been identified. They were: Brother Jean Baptiste, 74, Sherbrooke, Que., who died in the hospital after breaking his leg in a leap from a fourth-story window; Brother Paul Armand; Joseph Vincent, 15, of St. Hyacinthe. Maplain's body was recognized by a wrist watch last night. An inquest was to be held today on the body of Vincent, first of those identified at the morgue.

Of the original 24 taken to hospital, only 15 remained under treatment today. Hospital authorities released nine yesterday after treatment for burns and bruises received when the survivors of the 100 students and teachers trapped by the flames leaped from upper windows into the snow.

EXPLOSION WITH FIRE

Brother Lucius, college principal, scouted theories the fire might have been the work of incendiarists, although he said its origin was "mysterious." He confirmed there was an explosion in connection with the fire. "The explosion woke me up," he said.

Brother Lucius said he barely had time to draw on some clothes before leaving his ground floor quarters and escaping to the open air.

Mayor T. D. Bouchard, Liberal leader in the provincial Legislature, advanced the theory of a possible electrical short circuit as the cause of the outbreak. He said city police were investigating with provincial police.

Brother Rosaire, rector of the institution, said the janitor had made his usual round of inspection an hour before the fire was discovered at 1.50 a.m. He had just time to escape.

Youngsters who were herded to the roof of one wing along fire escapes fell into the raging furnace as the roof collapsed. Others who managed to leap from windows wore only night clothing and, as they dragged themselves with fractured limbs over the snow-covered ground, suffered greatly from exposure.

Dr. Paul Morin, district coroner, refused to express an opinion on the disaster's possible cause, but his brother, Dr. Paul Morin, declared the furnaces were intact and the boilers undamaged except by flames when firemen reached them.

HEROISM TOLD

Tales of heroism of the Brothers were told by the young pupils as they lay on hospital beds, still too shocked to realize unnumbered friends were dead, the centre of their lives now only a twisted, ugly pyre.

Little Jean Marcel Phenix, 12, related that Brother Paul Armand, in charge of the dormitory where younger boys slept, plunged to his death because he insisted on ushering the youngsters to safety. Leading a group to a roof two stories from the ground he bade them jump into the snow and as they went, one by one, the roof collapsed to carry Brother Paul Armand and half a dozen of the boys into the roaring ruins.

SAVED SICK CHILD

Brother Rosaire crawled along a flame-torn floor to the infirmary to carry a sick child down a fire escape. Through it all the Brothers went unmindful of themselves—racing through the corridors in the few fleeting moments before the floors fell—to urge the lads to leap for their lives.

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister King Tuesday wired Rev. Brother Rosaire, director of the Sacred Heart College at St. Hyacinthe, Quebec:

"My colleagues and I desire to extend to you, and through you to the injured and to the families who have been so greatly bereaved by the tragic fire, the expression of our very sincere and deep sympathy. This expression of sympathy is one in which the people of Canada generally will be anxious to share."

Bank of Toronto Profits Higher

But Larger Write-off For Premises Makes Net Gain For Year Less

TORONTO (CP)—The Bank of Toronto reported a slightly larger profit in the fiscal year ended November 30, 1937, than in the previous year, but a write-off of $200,000 on bank premises compared with $100,000 left a smaller net in 1937 than in 1936.

The profit for the last year was $1,157,372 after providing for staff pension fund, taxes and all other expenses and appropriations for contingent accounts and doubtful debts, compared with $1,141,811 in the previous year. The write-off on bank premises left $956,372, against $1,041,811 at the end of November, 1936.

Dividends called for $600,000, as in the previous year, leaving a balance to be carried forward of $356,372, bringing the profit and loss credit balance up to $1,641,748.

I've worked on fruit ranches, cattle ranches, scows, boats, lumber yards and mines," he said this morning at the hospital.

"I am a steel sharpener when I can get that work. I've worked on the Bralorne, Wayside, Minto and Big Missouri. My last job was with "Big Mizz," where I smashed my hand and left the north country in October. Since that time I've been out of work."

Griffith, who is 5 feet 8¼ inches tall and weighs 172 pounds, made his way from Vancouver to Nanaimo and thence to Alberni en route to Zeballos.

"There was nothing doing in the mills at Alberni and the fare to Zeballos was $12.10," he said. "I figured if I could get back to Vancouver and obtain a few days' work I could make $8, which is the second-class fare from Vancouver to Zeballos.

"I reached Victoria broke, two days ago. Someone told me about the Sunshine Inn, where they served good stews. I went there. Boy! but the stew was good and the people kind. They asked no questions.

"I then went to the police and asked if they could stake me to Vancouver. I never begged in my life, but that was the only way to make the grade.

"The officers were kind but said they had no funds to meet the situation. I asked them: 'Supposing I beat my way?' They said that was the chance I would take. I took it and here I am. The grip I tried to take with me pulled me down. It had in it all I've got.

THANKS RESCUER

"I could have made it had I tried another way but I didn't, and I guess the city would have had a pauper burial had it not been for Mr. McKay. I'd like to be in a position sometime to show my gratitude to him in a substantial manner, but that seems as hopeless right now as shooting at the moon."

Griffith has a mother in Vancouver and three brothers and four sisters in Ontario. He said he never had been on unemployment relief.

Little the worse for his experience Mr. McKay continued last night on his scheduled departure for Vancouver. He was given attention in his cabin after changing from his wet clothes.

Roumania Jews Seeking Refuge

Consulates in Bucharest Hear Appeals as 16 Parties Open Election Campaign

BUCHAREST (AP) — Several thousand Roumanian Jews sought havens abroad today while 16 political parties launched campaigns for a general election that is not expected to affect the government's anti-Semitic course.

King Carol's dissolution of Parliament Tuesday and orders for new elections March 3 gave Roumania a chance to approve or disapprove of the anti-Jewish, semi-Fascist policies of Premier Octavian Goga.

Coalition of other parties with identical anti-Jewish platforms was indicated, however, should Goga fail to rally parliamentary support. He controlled only 9 per cent of the votes in the dissolved Parliament.

FRANCO WAR PLANES STAGE BIGGEST RAID BARCELONA HAS SEEN

Government anti-aircraft batteries attempted to drive off the invaders, but all escaped.

TERUEL BATTLE

With Insurgents Before Teruel, Spain (AP) — Insurgent forces followed up gains along the Celadas range of mountains to the north of Teruel in eastern Spain with heavy artillery bombardment of Spanish Government positions today.

A government counter-attack on the north of Teruel was repulsed. With the occupation of strategic mountains, Altos de Celadas and El Muleton, the government position in Teruel was considered untenable.

Insurgent artillery seemed in a position to raze what is left of Teruel after a month's fighting, but guns were trained instead on military objectives north of the city.

STRIKE IN TORONTO

TORONTO (CP)—A strike of 120 drivers, truckers and yardmen on Toronto's coal docks started today on a call from the coal handlers and truckers' union, local 83, whose officers said they were asking higher wages for the men.

Father Rescues Five Children

VANCOUVER (CP)—S. H. Hoskin rescued his five children from being burned while they slept here today when fire swept through the bedroom at their home. They escaped by a ladder through the window.

Federal Aid For Schools Urged

OTTAWA (CP) — Federal aid for education on a basis of provincial need, so all Canadian youth will be assured equality of opportunity, was proposed today before the Royal Commission on Dominion-provincial relations by the Canadian Teachers' Federation, speaking for its 30,000 members.

In the alternative, the federation suggested the provinces be relieved of responsibility for social services so they would be in a position to bear a "much larger proportion" of the cost of education.

In either case, the federation recommended an undertaking be given to guarantee that the burden of education costs would be shifted from the municipalities to the provincial governments.

As proof that equality of educational opportunity did not exist in Canada, the federation pointed to inequalities among the provinces in their ability to raise taxes, which made inevitable, they said, inequalities in services rendered.

NEW PRESIDENT

VANCOUVER (CP) — John Whittle, 1937 vice-president, was elected by acclamation to the presidency of Vancouver Board of Trade when nominations for executive officers closed Tuesday. This election will be confirmed at the annual dinner meeting of the board here next Tuesday.

Labor Troubles Face Chautemps

PARIS (AP)—New labor disturbances arose today to harass the remodelled government of Camille Chautemps, and the Premier at once called a conference of his ministers to deal with them.

The cabinet meeting was set for Thursday morning.

The labor issue and the accompanying fall of the franc forced out Chautemps's previous Popular Front cabinet, which included Socialist ministers and had Communist support in parliament.

Eighteen of the 20 ministers in the new cabinet are Radical Socialists. No Socialists are included, and Communist support apparently will be unnecessary.

LIVING ALLOWANCES

The recurring Labor disturbances included a demand by Bordeaux municipal employees that the city council increase living allowances. The notice set January 27 as the deadline for completing negotiations before a general strike order.

Paris municipal employees gained increased living allowances by general strike last month and the rising cost of living attributed to fall of the franc has been the basic cause of the strike wave.

Rally Firms Wheat Prices Late Today

WINNIPEG (CP) — A late flurry of export buying lifted Winnipeg wheat futures from one-cent low points today. After marking time with other world markets most of the session, prices recovered to close ⅛ lower to ⅝ cent higher, May $1.24½, July $1.17¼ and October $1.01¼.

Heavy snow in Nebraska and indications of rain or snow in the Kansas winter wheat belt encouraged minor selling in all North American exchanges today. Futures on the Winnipeg Exchange closely followed Chicago and were almost a cent lower most of the day. Export business was estimated at 300,000 bushels. Earlier trading was virtually at a standstill.

Both Buenos Aires and Liverpool registered minor losses. Forecast of further rains in the Argentine corn areas was expected to cause increased farmers' sales. In late dealings Buenos Aires futures were ¼ to ½ cent off. Liverpool closed ¼ to ⅜ down.

Nos. 1 and 2 northern bid prices were reported at three cents below yesterday's close for the top grade and a cent lower for No. 2—20 and 10 cents higher than the May future, respectively.

Coarse grains moved irregularly within a narrow range, rye declining more than a cent near the close.

CHICAGO (AP) — Approximately two cents tumble of wheat prices today accompanied an international wheat committee report saying normal yields from present acreage would lead to enormous supplies.

Leading crop specialists in Chicago ridiculed the international committee report as visionary.

Rallying at the last, Chicago wheat futures closed 1 cent to 1½ cents under yesterday's finish, May 95¼ to 95⅜, July 89⅝ to 89⅞, corn ⅜ to ⅝ down, May 60⅛ to 60¼, July 60⅝, and oats ⅛ to ¼ off.

LONDON MARKET

LONDON—Following the formation of the French cabinet, stock prices steadied today but trading remained restricted. British funds were marked down slightly in anticipation of selling from Paris. Copper issues remained firm despite the reduction in the American price for that metal. Industrials and oils were quiet and trans-Atlantic issues held steady. Brazilian bonds moved up 1 to 2 and German and French liens were about unchanged.

Closing: Brazilian, $12⅝; C.P.R., $7¾; Chrysler, $60¼; Eastman $165; General Motors, $36¼; Hydro Electric, $5¼; Inter. Nickel, $50¾; Inter. T. and T., $7¼; U.S. Steel, $59½; British-American Tobacco, 105s; British Celanese, 4s 7½d; H.B.C., 24s 3d; Imperial Airways, 33s 9d; Imperial Chemicals, 34s 4½d; Imperial Tobacco, 148s 9d; Woolworth, 86s 7½d.

Rails Set Downward Course on Wall St.

NEW YORK (AP)—Rails set a downgrade course for the stock market today and moderate offerings depressed many shares one to three points.

Rally efforts in late dealings reduced losses, but declines were widespread through the list as steels, chemicals, motors, coppers and other industrial groups in the forefront of the early new year advance followed the railroad stocks.

While trading was somewhat more active on the downside, many speculators held aloof waiting the outcome of White House conferences with industrialists and a better view of spring business prospects, brokers said.

Further sharp drops in numerous railroad bonds and a fall in grains and other commodities seemed to encourage selling in stocks. Conspicuous in bucking the main currents were gold shares. Utilities on the whole also fared better than rails and industrials.

Transactions approximated 1,000,000 shares.

Wall Street saw forthcoming quarterly corporate earning statements as possible stumbling blocks for the market. At the same time the day's industrial news added little to the previous picture of a mild new year upturn in production.

(By H. A. Humber Ltd.)

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

Thirty industrials—130.09 off 1.44.

Twenty rails—29.97, off 1.09.

Twenty utilities—20.71, off 0.07.

Forty bonds—90.56, off 0.35.

Sixty-Five Today

FROM MANY PARTS OF THE COUNTRY today Premier Pattullo is receiving congratulations on reaching the 65th milestone of his life. He is celebrating his birthday in Vancouver in the company of several of his colleagues in the cabinet, distinguished officials of the public services of the province, and many of his personal friends. A banquet and a presentation this evening will mark the event. The Times extends its felicitations to Mr. Pattullo and hopes that his customary good health and buoyant spirits will attend him for many years to come.

British Columbia's colorful Prime Minister has had an eventful life. He has crowded more into it than would be possible for most men even if they had similar opportunity. Obviously born with the desire to do things and get things done, a firmly-set jaw which early in life gave him his passport to a world of adventure, an acquisitiveness for knowledge of men and things which has enabled him to give so many of his years to the public service of the province of his adoption, Thomas Dufferin Pattullo may contemplate with pardonable pride the roles he has filled and the achievements which stand to his credit.

At the time of the rush for gold in the Klondike, Premier Pattullo acted as Secretary to the Yukon Commission, followed by three years in the position of Assistant Gold Commissioner, afterwards as Alderman and then Mayor of Prince Rupert. From that city in 1916 Mr. Pattullo entered the lists as a Liberal candidate in the general election which swept the Bowser government out of office. He was elected, still represents that constituency in the Legislature, and, as we termed him in these columns at the opening of the first session of the present Parliament, remains "our unbeaten Premier."

The celebrants in Vancouver tonight will remind Mr. Pattullo that he has passed his majority in the House, that he has been a Minister of the Crown in every Liberal government since 1916, and Prime Minister since his party's great victory at the polls in 1933 and again last year. Small wonder he wears an expansive smile as he enters his sixty-sixth year of his life.

The Tie Of Blood

NEWSPAPERS IN GREAT BRITAIN gave considerable space to accounts of the recent death of Mr. Robert W. Bingham, until a month or so ago United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James. Many important journals found it difficult to think of Mr. Bingham as anything but English, because he was descended on both sides from old West Country families, and had been a constant visitor to the land of his forbears for 40 years.

It will be recalled that when Mr. Bingham was appointed ambassador to Great Britain by President Roosevelt five years ago the nomination was opposed by many who considered him "too English." He himself said he was "coming home." It was no wonder, therefore, that in Ambassador Bingham Britain found one of the staunchest supporters of closer Anglo-American co-operation who had ever held the distinguished office of ambassadorial representative.

"All my life I have never thought of Great Britain as a foreign country," he said in an Independence Day speech which was broadcast to the United States, and he added: "I believe that the people in these islands are invincible and unconquerable."

Mr. Bingham was descended from a family which had lived in Dorset for 800 years—the Binghams of Melcombe. The Worths, his mother's ancestors, emigrated from Barnstaple, Devon, in 1630, and gave the name of their home town to the village and county they founded in Massachusetts.

An Ancient Pastime

THIS IS JUST A SMALL ITEM OF NEWS from Shanghai today but it tells much: British authorities at Tientsin have refused to comply with a Japanese request to hand over a Chinese resident in the British concession. The Japanese threatened to go into the concession and take him. British military authorities replied: "We will be compelled to resist." The Japanese did not press the matter further.

In many ways the Japanese war mongers have tested British patience in the war zones of the Orient. They have "got away with it" in some instances and disposed of tense situations with the now familiar explanation and apology. Much as Great Britain wants to avoid serious trouble, those who rule the roost at Tokio will be well advised not to overdo the ancient—but unprofitable—pastime of twisting the lion's tail.

Hoover-Roosevelt Contrast

THE SHARP CONTRAST BETWEEN THE social viewpoints of Hoover and Roosevelt symbolizes the struggle between the two great schools of thought in the United States, declares Emil Ludwig in his "Life of Roosevelt" in the current Liberty magazine.

The ironic part of this symbolism, says Ludwig, is that both men stepped out of their class to help the other: Hoover, a self-made man, being born poor became rich and was the upholder of capital; while Roosevelt, being born rich, went in the other direction.

Population and Conquest

CROWDED PEOPLES PRESS DISTRACTED rulers into national policies that offer no hope for solution of their problems. The two measures most favored in recent times, conquest and encouragement of migration, are illusory hopes, declares Dr. Isaiah Bowman, president of the Johns Hopkins University, in the introduction to a new book, "Limits of Land Settlement," published by the Council on Foreign Relations. Each of the 10 chapters is contributed by an acknowledged authority in the field of human geography.

"One conclusion stands out above the rest," Dr. Bowman sums up: "New land will accommodate too slow and small a stream of population to be of real social importance to the countries of origin. In our present nationalized world, in which the best lands have been occupied, and restrictive measures are in force, migration is no answer to economic and social strain induced by so-called overpopulation.

"Nor is military conquest either a practical or a rational answer. The struggle for additional territory as a step in empire building can be understood; the hope that it will furnish an offset to a high birth rate is based upon an illusion.

"No discernible or predictable stream of migration can keep pace with the birth rates of conspicuously overcrowded countries."

Those who still do go a-pioneering have to be helped along by their respective home governments. By one school of thought, says Dr. Bowman, this is taken to mean that the old pioneering spirit is gone and that the present generation of would-be settlers is "soft."

But this philosophy, he answers, may be said to ignore the fact that "things were never as they used to be." The Lord Proprietor in colonial days, and the special concessions to canals and railroads later, were early manifestations of the same "colonist coddling." It is only reasonable to expect that inducements must be held out to prospective pioneers, as offsets to the hardships they know they will have to endure.

The Legitimate Field Remains

THE BELFAST NEWS-LETTER TODAY, although unable to find that anything definite has been achieved by the British-Eire deliberations in London, considers it "something to learn that the conversations are to go on" after experts have studied the material now at their disposal.

The legitimate field of negotiation, of course, is a wide one, and if, within the limits, mutually satisfactory agreements can be thrashed out, the News-Letter contends, "Ulster, as part of the United Kingdom and a well-wisher of the Free State, will rejoice."

On the other hand, the Belfast daily emphatically asserts, "if Prime Minister de Valera continues to make Irish unity a sine qua non in the negotiations he is merely wasting his time." In other words, Ulster will have nothing to do with Eire's indispensable condition. But an agreement on economic and defence matters may, after all, be considered by Mr. de Valera something worth striving for.

Mr. Noe's Religion

THE VERY REVEREND ISRAEL HARDing Noe, Dean of St. Mary's Cathedral in Memphis, Tenn., has been fasting for 16 days and is now making arrangements to attend a convention of his diocese.

In explanation of his "absolute fast" he says he is entering into a "new higher plane of spiritual life," taking his food from "the Father's life within."

Far be it from us to enter into any dissertation on the way religion affects some people. There are so many real good men and women around us, however, men and women who understand the simplicity of the Master's Word, that it seems strange for the Mr. Noes to resort to what, after all, is merely showmanship to attract attention to a peculiar conception of spiritual life.

Mr. Noe's picture is appearing in the public press. It is more like a spectre than the likeness of a man in holy orders, charged with the business of going about and doing good.

If only some of those etiquette writers would tell us how long to keep some of the useless junk our friends gave us for Christmas.

CENSORSHIP

From Regina Leader Post

There is a queer turn to the following editorial paragraph in the C.C.F. weekly newspaper at Edmonton: "To all those readers of The People's Weekly who took their pen in hand to answer some recent letters, notably that of Dr. Coursier's, we can only say that we think it would not be wise nor in the interests of the cause which they hold dear to publish their letters. They would only provoke reply, which would prolong a controversy, and that wouldn't do the C.C.F. any good." This looks like shutting off a discussion in the paper because it is feared the argument "wouldn't do the C.C.F. any good." We had always thought that it was only the vile organs of capitalistic society and the paid hirelings of the old political parties that did that sort of thing.

NO MORE POETRY

ONE CAN ALWAYS TELL when the business index is down because, invariably, the poetic index goes up. During the boom of 1936-37, which came and went without anyone suspecting its presence and everyone still complaining of bad times, I received hardly any poems at all. Since the market crashed last autumn, however, I have been deluged with poetry. I have fairly drowned in it some days. But I have managed to keep it from you somehow. With a fortitude for which I am never likely to get any credit, I have fought it down, kept it out of print.

This is just a note to the poets so that they won't send me any more poetry. Not that I don't admire it, for some of it is very good and much more interesting than anything I can write. But if I were to print it, this newspaper would find it so much more readable than this column that they would soon decide to keep the poetry and let me go. So the real truth is I am afraid to print it.

And though I always intend to return it to the writer, and carry it around in my pockets for weeks until it is all worn out, I always forget the poet's address. He never sees it again, and meanwhile my pockets are heavy with tattered, worn-out poetry. There really isn't anything more dispiriting after a hard day to find your pockets full of worn-out poetry, which you haven't the courage to throw away. I mean, you are always harrowed by the thought that you are carrying around a masterpiece of literature in your pocket and letting it die by inches. So, please, no more poetry. Send it to editors. They always kill it mercifully at one swoop.

ESCAPE

AT A RECENT CONVENTION the American Library Association decided that libraries generally are too high-brow. They attempt to cram too much serious stuff down the optic nerves of their patrons, with the result that the public is in revolt and, instead of reading, it goes to the movies.

This, apparently, is supposed to be an indictment of the movies as a method of escape from modern life. It is time somebody stood up for the movies, for if there were no movies to provide an escape, probably the world would go mad. Did you ever think of that?

A century ago people used to escape from life through drink, and drunkenness was thought by many to be undermining the whole British race. Now people get drunk emotionally at the movies and are quite all right next day. It's cheaper and better for the health, though, of course, it does cut down the government's revenues. And every day, as there is more horror in the world which one must escape from, the importance of the movies increases. If they were to disappear tomorrow and there were no place to absorb the surplus emotions of the public, you would undoubtedly find the world returning to gin, as in Georgian times, or to some kind of mass violence.

COSTLY TOOTS

THE RAILROADS of the United States, according to The Christian Science Monitor, have been making a study of locomotive toots, and they find that it costs them one-eighth of a cent for every toot. When you consider that a big locomotive may toot a thousand times a day, you realize that toots are quite an item in a railway's budget. Many an engineer wastes as much as a nickel a day just to salute some friend of his living along the line, or to tell the good wife on the back steps that he'll be home for dinner.

For a long time a train whistle screaming through the night has been one of the most pleasant sounds peculiar to America—something they don't enjoy in the Old World, where a locomotive makes a poor anaemic squeak like a child's toy whistle. For all North Americans the sound of a locomotive whistle has always carried something of the vast loneliness of this continent, and the North American's universal desire to be going somewhere; and even if you can live on trains nowadays in upholstered, air-conditioned and well-iced luxury, the feeling we have for trains is a relic of covered wagon days, an instinct handed down by our grandfathers, who heard the iron horse whistling for the first time in the mountains and across the plains.

In a fashion which Europeans cannot understand, we lie awake at night listening to a train whistle and it is full of a strange longing. But next time you hear it, don't forget that it costs the poor railway an eighth of a cent per toot. You can't expect this free entertainment to go on indefinitely, with most of the railways in America nearly broke.

RADIO BATTLE REPORT

In the battle between Rome and London for the radio propaganda championship of the Near East, Palestine reporters cable that Arab listeners tuned in the first British broadcast but tuned it out again when it proved to be a mixture of Arabic, English and violin solos in the classical mode. The listeners switched to Mussolini's all-Arabic programme, featuring the voice of Abdul Wahab, favorite crooner of the Near East. Probably the wise strategists in London are now waiting for television, so they can sign up Fatima, that weird Oriental dancer, whose gyrations can perhaps win over the errant Arabs from the spell of Abdul.

LOYALTY TO CANADA

From Ottawa Journal

We have a right to expect leaders who will show common sense and common patriotism, who will not seize the present of all times to launch sectionalism, talking about "economic union" of two provinces against the others. That sort of thing, carried to its logical conclusion, would smash Confederation. Politically, geographically and economically, Canada is a unit, and there is no room within that unit for the setting up of a separate principalities at the whim of separate mandarins. The first loyalty of Canadians in Ontario and Quebec is not to Quebec and Ontario. It is to Canada.

Backler's Last Letter Reaches U.B.C.

By J. D. MACFARLANE

A TALE of Canadians at war in Spain has come to light today upon the receipt of a letter from the late Lionel Backler to the Student League of the University of British Columbia.

Found among the effects of the Victoria boy, who died in hospital on August 24 last, after being cited for bravery in the field, and was accorded a full military funeral, the letter tells of the 1,000 Canadians of the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion fighting for the Loyalist cause. It was the last letter he wrote. He fell in action before he had time to post it.

Lionel Backler was chairman of the Student League at U.B.C. in 1934-35 when it initiated the Anti-War Drive. His letter, dated August 17, 1937, addressed to Thomas McCallum, U.B.C. Students' League, follows:

"Yorkie" of Vancouver, now here with us, told me to write to you concerning what I had in mind.

I would like the Student League of the U.B.C. to know that I am here in the MacKenzie-Papineau Battalion.

I was in New York for two years after graduating as B.A. from U.B.C. At U.B.C., a group of which I was one founded the Student League in 1933-34. I was chairman of it, and had this position in the Anti-War drive of the following year initiated by the league. A little later we introduced Tim Buck to the University at a notable meeting.

I think the league might like to know at the beginning of a new term that one of its members is a group leader in the M.-P. Battalion and third in command of a section of 36 at full strength. Also that University students and graduates are here with us. And that we would like to see U.B.C. represented by more.

Would you also request the league to remember me to Professors Hunter Lewis and Soward—also to "Al" Monroe (if possible) one of the league's founders and son a Rev. Monroe (one of the two in the phone book in 1935). I would like Monroe to write me.

We expect our battalion to have the wires humming by now. It seems to me such a battalion has great importance for the Canadian struggle. A. E. Smith talked to us a few days ago. Could the league get him during the tour which he is going to make on his return?

I renewed the acquaintance of Tim Buck last time he spoke in New York (on his return from Spain). He made a big impression there.

Please do at your earliest convenience what I have requested of you—or as much of it as possible.

(By the way, two Canadian-Finnish machine gunners and the singing Ukrainians from Canada are among the prides of the battalion, which is about 1,000 strong).

LIONEL BACKLER.

FISH TRAPS

To the Editor:—Mr. W. Griffiths is to be congratulated upon his excellent letter in the Times, on the above subject. It is, indeed, queer that our Chamber of Commerce should see fit to ignore the advice of the fishermen of Nanaimo and the Fishery Commission of the United States, who have seen their own fisheries destroyed by these infernal traps.

If, as Mr. Goodrich says, the trollers take more fish than the traps, why does his company use traps, and pull strings right and left to retain their use? You might almost as well dynamite the salmon—hence the action of the U.S. in prohibiting their use.

The plea that a great industry is being destroyed by the shutting down of traps is sheer nonsense. You are saving it by giving the fish a breathing space, and a sporting chance. The canners can well afford to stake their men to trolling gear and sporting tackle.

To show how deeply politics are played in Victoria, we have only to take the attitude of our sporting clubs. They love to talk on fly fishing and restocking lakes, or any topic but checking the operations of the commercial fishermen who are not only destroying the game fish but the food of the fish as well. The fish are the property of the people and they should not be destroyed wholesale by companies whose sole object is money. I assert that no true sportsman can favor traps.

I am surprised at the attitude of Mr. Husband, and also the silence of Mr. Warren on this subject. Both know the evils wrought by fish traps and both know the value of fishermen tourists. Both are leaders of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, and we all know that most of its members are merely "Yes" men and follow their leaders. Strange that any body of men can be found under the British flag that will not give even a salmon a sporting chance.

TRAFFIC SUGGESTIONS

To the Editor:—The following letter has been sent to the Victoria Police Board:

"This communication is to convey the writer's willingness to aid in 'Safety First' city traffic, and humbly submit the following suggestions: First, the elimination of the present 'left-hand turn' at signal crossings. According to complaints from the general public and several very unpleasant personal experiences prove this left-hand turn is very dangerous.

"Pedestrians should be given all consideration at such crossings. Again and again I have witnessed much nervous confusion from near accidents resultant from the left-hand turn.

"Secondly, were the pedestrians instructed to keep to the right on busy streets and crossings, this would eliminate delay and avoid possible accidents.

"The foregoing is presented to your worthy board for serious consideration, and trust in the interest of better regulated traffic you will put into effect the suggestions mentioned."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

EIGHTY-TWO YEARS OF SUCCESSFUL BANKING

Accuses Reeve of Being a Dictator

Rival Candidates Heard at Saanich Municipal Election Meeting

St. Mark's Hall was crowded for a Ward Two Saanich municipal meeting last night, when candidates for reeve, school board and police commission, and the councillor for the ward, who was elected by acclamation, spoke.

Reeve William Crouch, who is seeking re-election, opened the meeting with a discussion of municipal finances. He said that Saanich had ended the year with a deficit of $11,000, but that he was not worried, because of the assets the municipality had.

He felt that Saanich was in a better position this year, due to the fact that the provincial government had taken over mothers' pensions with a saving of $12,000 a year to the municipality. However, he noted that the government was returning only a small portion of the $60,000 a year which it had taken away in grants and other things.

The reeve declared that he was strongly in favor of the building of the crematorium, because the expenditure of $8,000 would safeguard an investment of $90,000 which the municipality had in the Royal Oak Burial Park.

He took Councillor A. G. Lambrick to task for quibbling over the amount it would cost to sink a test well in the municipality.

"If by some magic wand I could put sewers into the inner wards, we would not have enough water to operate them," Reeve Crouch said, claiming that the pipes were too small.

"If I went to Victoria tomorrow and asked for a larger connection, I know I would be refused," he added.

"What is $2,500 in finding water for you. If water is found it will be a gold mine to you.

"Councillor Lambrick objects because he seems to think that well-water will be too cold for the strawberries and other fruit in his ward—or that the cows won't produce so much butter with this water."

COUNCILLOR WATSON

Councillor John Watson, candidate for reeve, was not sure that the municipality was receiving dollar for dollar. Too much was being spent on non-essentials.

He said that taxes had not been raised, but there had been no reduction since British Columbia had taken over the arterial highways.

The municipality had bought a new gas shovel for $10,000 and sold the old one for $1,200 to $1,500 to a private enterprise which, he claimed, was still using it.

Later, during the question period, a member of the audience volunteered the information that from personal experience he knew the old shovel was almost useless.

Councillor Watson declared that the whole council would have been in favor of a crematorium if there had been a provision that no private firm in Greater Victoria would be allowed to build one.

"I'm not saying cremation is not the coming thing," the candidate vouchsafed.

The audience burst into a roar of laughter.

"I'm not going to be cremated," he declared, and then added that since Saanich was finding cremation so profitable he might go into the business himself.

He called Reeve Crouch a dictator and a Mussolini. He said the reeve had taken away the buses and one road from the people.

"He'll promise you the world with a hole in it, and when he gets in he'll take away the world and leave you in the hole," Councillor Watson said.

TRUSTEE HULL

Trustee A. E. Hull, seeking re-election to the school board, said that he wished to correct a statement he made on the finances of the board. Instead of a balance the completed and audited books showed a deficit of $509. He stood for re-election on his record of eight years' service.

W. A. Kettle, candidate for the school board, maintained that expansion of manual arts was necessary in the schools. His policy was economy without injuring education.

Martin Dawson, candidate for the school board, said he had always been interested in boys' work, and was president of a Parent-Teacher Association for the last two years. He felt the Cadboro Bay, Cedar Hill and Gordon Head districts needed representation on the board.

L. W. Goddard, seeking re-election for the police commission, said the police had collected $1,524 more this year than last year. His policy of forebearance consistent with the law would be maintained if returned.

Councillor A. G. Lambrick, candidate for police commission, said he was running because of numerous requests.

Councillor E. C. Warren, re-elected by acclamation in Ward Two, gave an account of his stewardship and also explained his stand on the water question.

S. ROBERTSON WILL DEBATE

Victorian Chosen to Represent U.B.C. Against Alberta University

Struan Robertson, Victoria student at U.B.C., and Morris Belkin of Vancouver, will support the contention that "an Anglo-American alliance offers a better hope for world peace than the collective security principle of the League of Nations" when they meet University of Alberta debaters at Edmonton on January 21.

The debate is one of four occurring simultaneously for the coveted McGoun Cup, symbolic of debating supremacy between the universities of B.C., Alberta, Manitoba, and Saskatchewan. Similar debates will be held in Vancouver, Winnipeg and Saskatoon. Each college will supply two teams, one of which will take the platform at home, and the winner of the cup will be judged on points, the result being announced the evening of the contests.

Mr. Robertson has already distinguished himself in debating circles since going to U.B.C. in September. He was an outstanding delegate to the National Conference of Canadian University Students held at Winnipeg during the Christmas vacation. Last year he was president of Students' Council at Victoria College.

To Relieve Bad Cough Quickly, Mix This at Home

Does the Work in a Hurry. Saves Money. Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother used, and, for real results, it is still a very dependable thing for distressing coughs. Try it once, and you'll swear by it.

It's no trouble at all. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking is needed—a child could do it.

Now put 2½ ounces of Pinex into a 16 oz. bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you 16 ounces of really superior cough remedy—more than you could buy for four times the money. It keeps perfectly, tastes fine, and lasts a family a long time.

This splendid home mixture has a three-fold action. You can feel it take hold at once. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. This explains why it gives such prompt, pleasing results.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine, in concentrated form, well known for its prompt action on throat membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

A HOT DRINK THAT BUILDS AND STRENGTHENS

When you give your child a cup of hot Cocomalt you give her something that will build her up as well as warm her up. Cocomalt supplies Carbohydrates for building energy. Iron for strength and vitality. Sunshine Vitamin "D" to make up for lack of healthful Summer sunshine And other body and strength builders, such as Calcium, Phosphorus and Proteins. Altogether this protective food drink is rich in food essentials that will help strengthen your children to resist Winter ills and to aid them in making good gains in growth and weight during the hard Winter months.

Wasp-waists To Come in Again

NEW YORK (AP) — A whirl in the cycle of feminine contours — away from the stream-like sylph of post-war years, back to something approaching the wasp-waisted model of the Floradora sextette or Gibson girl days — was forecast today at an exhibition of the latest thing in corsets.

"The latest silhouettes from Paris call for a slightly longer waistline and a high, well-rounded bosom," explained Jack Love, exhibit official. "Women are padding their shoulders and busts to bring out the illusion of a slender waist. Not waspy, exactly, but gracefully thin."

Campus Magazine Barred to Co-eds

CHICAGO (AP)—The Purple Parrot, campus humor magazine, was barred today from distribution among northwestern university students until a two-page supplement of pictures showing co-eds in their baths had been deleted.

Officials discovered the sorority girls had been supplied with candid cameras and had photographed unsuspecting co-eds while they were taking baths.

Bridegroom Is Locked in Vestry

TORONTO (CP)—Lieut. Kelly Benjamin Lemmon of Fort Omaha, Neb., found a new use for his sword here Monday night when he became locked in the vestry of the Church of the Redeemer a few moments before his marriage to Djenane Mackeller.

He chiselled the lock off the door with his sword but the sword was so badly hacked he left it off his uniform when he was married.

Dates Cost Money

REGINA—Troubles which arise when dates with boy friends conflict with weekly club meeting nights have been minimized by a group of 20 Regina girls. The club, the K-Perettes, ruled any young man desiring a date with a club member on meeting night must pay 50 cents into the club treasury. A substantial treasury is being built up.

Edna Jaques Recites Her Poems

Women's Canadian Club Enjoys Homely Philosophy

Imbued with the homely, intensely human philosophy and humor which makes her verse so appealing, the lecture-recital by Mrs. W. E. Jamieson (Edna Jaques) before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon was followed with appreciative interest by nearly 550 members of the organization.

Taking as her subject, "Dreams in Your Heart", Mrs. Jamieson quoted from her most recent book of verse published under this title, and recalled that all of the poems had been written in Victoria.

SASKATCHEWAN TRIBUTE

Her first poem, "How Have You Grown?", referred to growth of mind, and in this connection she observed that during the last 18 months, in which she has been residing at her former home at Briarcrest, Sask., her mind had experienced its period of greatest growth.

This she attributed largely to the lessons learned from observation and admiration of the people of the drought area, whose amazing courage and optimism in the face of appalling difficulties was epitomized in the attitude of her eldest brother, who, after nine years of crop failure through drought, had cheerfully prepared his land for the coming spring's sowing.

She paid warm tribute, too, to the courage and sympathetic attitude of the missionaries of that prairie country. "The missionaries are there long after the banks have gone. It is the churches, not the beer parlors, who have been helping Saskatchewan," she commented, before reading her poem "Heroes", extolling the virtues of a country missioner.

The miracle of the radio inspired her poem, "I Used to Wonder How It Was," recalling her childhood wonder that God could hear her prayers so far away. To her, the most wonderful thing about the Coronation was not the glitter and splendor and panoply, but the fact that by turning a button in a lonely farm in Saskatchewan she was able to hear the sounds of that great ceremony and the vast crowds in the heart of the Empire.

Other poems recited included "To An Old Chinaman", "Her Way", "Everyday Miracle", "Above the Timber Line", "My Daughter's Growing Up", and "Might I Give Them Back a Hundredfold" and "My Work Bench."

"STICK TO DREAMS"

In conclusion she spoke of the latent talents which lie hidden in everyone, and which should be encouraged. "If you have a dream in your heart, stick to it," she urged. "Don't let anyone persuade you from it," and recalled that, as a child, she had cherished the dream to write poetry which would bring some measure of pleasure to others. Despite discouragement and in the face of almost insurmountable difficulties, she had persisted in her dream and today was enjoying its fulfilment.

Mrs. J. O. Cameron moved the vote of thanks to the speaker, to whom the president, Mrs. H. L. Campbell, presented a fragrant corsage bouquet.

Mrs. Stanley Moore delighted the gathering with her solos, "Love at Rising" (Bridges) and "I Have a Little Shadow" (Homer Samuel), accompanied by Mrs. Jamie Cameron.

Announcement was made that at the meeting of the club on Tuesday, February 1, the speaker would be Miss Van Bulen, who would give an addres on "Holland, the Land of Singing Towers."

The recent bursary tea, it was announced, had resulted in $155 for the fund.

Fashions in Names

FORT WILLIAM, Ont. — Few girls born in Fort William received old-fashioned names, Jane or Grace, Jennie or Lily, Katherine or Ida, Martha or Sarah. City Hall records show the trend is towards Darlenes, Lorraines, Jills, Marilyns, Deannas, Sandras and Dorotheas.

BLACKHEADS
Blackheads simply dissolve and disappear by this one simple, safe and sure method. Get two ounces of peroxine powder from any drug store, sprinkle it on a hot, wet cloth, rub the face gently—every blackhead will be gone. Have a Hollywood complexion.

Crowning Moment of Nuptials

With attendants holding crowns above their heads, Lucy Tew, United States society beauty, and Prince Georges Dadiani are married by the long, elaborate ceremony of the Greek Orthodox Church at the cathedral in New York. Now a resident of Paris, Prince Georges comes from an old line of Georgian princes.

The annual whist party and dance of the Safeway Employees' Association was held at the Crystal Garden yesterday evening. A jolly crowd of over 150 members and friends attented the function. Bert Zala's orchestra provided the music with a number of medleys and special numbers. The waltz contest was won by George Sturgess and Miss Laura Catterall. Miss Flossie Ray entertained with two tap dance numbers, and Miss Ivy Bowles sang. During the serving of refreshments Mr. Bantly presented the prizes for the whist contest.

Gem-crusted Gowns For Bride

Paris Trousseau Is Chosen For Egypt's Queen-to-be

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Slender, dark-eyed Farida Zulficar, who will become Egypt's second queen since Cleopatra Thursday, completed her pre-nuptial arrangements today.

The 16-year-old bride-to-be had her 45-gown trousseau packed and sent to Koubbeh Palace, where she and young King Farouk will live after their marriage. The bridegroom chose most of the trousseau.

From the time of Cleopatra, the country's ruler when Egypt passed under the domination of Rome in 31 B.C., there was no queen of Egypt until Farouk's mother gained the title when her late husband, Fuad, was proclaimed King in 1922.

Cairo gaily awaited Egypt's first royal wedding since the days of the Pharaohs, for Fuad was already married to Queen Nazli when he became King.

Although Farida is as modern as her bridegroom, she won't use powder or lipstick.

Her Paris - designed $25,000 trousseau includes one "Arabian Nights" model, a rose-peach garment embroidered with water-drop pearls with a 24-foot lame train spangled with jewels and trimmed with blue velvet and ermine. It has a brocade design of lotus foliage and a quarter moon inscribed in gold with a verse of the Koran. The train alone cost $3,000.

In keeping with the modern tendencies of the 17-year-old King and his bride-to-be, however, the design of the clothes is thoroughly modern.

The gem of the collection is the gown of silver lace over satin designed by Worth of Paris for the Moslem wedding ceremony, which will be witnessed by no woman—not even the bride herself.

Wearing it with an eight-yard court train of shimmering silver lame and a sheer tulle veil caught under a sparkling diadem, Farida will wait in one part of the King's stately palace while the marriage contract is solemnized in another.

Dressing Expert

As you would expect, the cook employed by Mrs. Harrison Williams of New York, known as the best-dressed woman in the world, was among the best-dressed women at the butler's ball, the year's big event in New York's "backstairs society." Here she is, Irma Jentch, pictured as she waited in the lounge for her escort.

The city of Providence, R.I., is the world's largest jewelry centre.

Junior V.O.N. Review Year

Mrs. J. W. Parr was re-elected president of the Junior V.O.N. at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Phyllis Parkes, Esquimalt Road. The other officers were chosen as follows: Vice-president, Miss Marianne Fraser; secretary, Miss Mimi Cox; treasurer, Miss Valerie Kennedy-Smith; sewing conveners, Miss Phyllis Parkes and Miss Elise Corbett.

Tentative plans for further activities were discussed and during the meeting Miss FitzGibbon, of the senior board, addressed the members and Miss Creasor gave a talk about the work of the V.O.N.

At the close of the meeting, tea was served by Miss Parkes.

Why Use A "Sissy" Laxative?

Chronic constipation has to do with the colon or large intestine. Unless the large bowel is thoroughly emptied from time to time you become a victim of chronic constipation and poisoning of the system which results in colitis or other serious diseases.

Mild or "sissy" laxatives merely cause a movement of the bowels without effecting a thorough cleaning out of the colon or large bowel. For this reason you are misled into thinking that you are doing all you can to overcome a constipated and poisoned condition of the system.

Those who know Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills appreciate the value of a real medicine which not only effects a thorough cleansing of the colon or large bowel but also arouses the liver and kidneys to activity in filtering poisons from the blood.

Once you have proven the merits of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will never return to the use of "sissy" laxatives. Used regularly once a week this medicine ensures pure blood and freedom from constipation and the pains, aches and serious diseases which accompany it.

ARE YOU ONLY A 3/4 WIFE?

Men can never understand a three-quarter wife—a wife who is lovable for three weeks of the month—but a hell-cat the fourth.

No matter how your back aches—no matter how loudly your nerves scream—don't take it out on your husband.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure.

Make a note NOW to get a bottle of Pinkham's today WITHOUT FAIL from your druggist—more than a million women have written in letters reporting benefit.

Why not try LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND?

Lightweight Furs Hold Spotlight

A. E. Alexandor Returns From Fur Sales in Seattle

Advance indications point to a banner season in the fur trade, according to A. E. Alexandore president of Foster's Fur Store (Victoria) Limited, who returned yesterday from Seattle, where he attended the raw fur auctions and a fur style show.

"With the exception of one or two types, raw furs show a marked increase in price," stated Mr. Alexandor. "This in itself is an indication of healthy business conditions, typifying an advance in volume of what is in reality a luxury line."

In speaking of the new styles which are presented for 1938, Mr. Alexandor waxed enthusiastic.

"The tendency is now to lightweight furs," he stated, "with silver fox in capes and scarfs holding the spotlight in the fashion forecast."

Jigger coats, capes and short coats, made from Kolinsky skunk, are a highlight in the spring fur fashion news, sharing the honors with Jap mink, weasel in various shades and black caracul.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

THURSDAY, JANUARY 20, 1938

Astrologers perceive evil portents in the horoscope for today. The morning hours are especially threatening.

Wrong thinking inspires prejudice and bad judgment in both small and large decisions. Men may deceive one another as well as themselves while this configuration prevails.

International affairs may be marked by intrigue and dissimulation as Mars frowns upon the earth. The planetary influences encourage conflict affecting workers, military and naval forces, government officials and others.

While men indulge in bitter misunderstandings women today are under benign influences. They should act as peacemakers wherever possible.

This is an auspicious wedding day and fortunate for betrothals. The new year is to be marked by intense love affairs not limited to the young.

Girls may find this a lucky date for seeking positions. Again the seers prophesy a period in which there will be a great demand for women in many fields of activity.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of many interests and unusual business. Girls should be prosperous.

Children born on this day probably will be exceedingly talented and successful. Subjects of this sign may have extraordinary powers of expression. Writers belong to this cusp of Capricorn and Aquarius.

Richard LeGallienne, poet and critic, was born on this day, 1866. Others who have celebrated it as a birthdate include Nathaniel P. Willis, journalist; poet, 1806; David Wilmot, political leader and reformer, 1814, and Josef Hofmann, pianist, 1876.

Urges Japanese Census in B.C.

Capt. Macintosh, M.P.P., Tells of "Oriental Penetration of Our Industrial Life"

VANCOUVER (CP)—An immediate census of all Japanese in British Columbia was recommended Tuesday night by Captain Macgregor Macintosh, Conservative member of the British Columbia Legislature for the Islands constituency.

Captain Macintosh said he considered the census "imperative" as a first step in remedying the "most serious Oriental penetration of our industrial life" before it was "too late."

In his address to a party rally here, the Conservative member said he was referring "more particularly to the Japanese participation" in British Columbia industry.

"The Japanese are arriving in this province in ever-increasing numbers, and one gravely doubts if all of these arrivals are legal," he told his audience.

"Do you realize that by the agreement between Ottawa and Tokio—a 'gentleman's agreement'—the number of Japanese allowed into Canada is about 150 annually?

"Can any one of you walk through the environs of Powell Street (Vancouver's Japanese section), drive in the vicinity of Steveston or go out towards Mission, or up the coast to the fishing fleets and the herring salterles, and believe that this 'gentleman's agreement' is being adhered to?

"I tell you again that this invasion is of the utmost seriousness to British Columbia," he said. "These people are constantly arriving.

ON ISLANDS

"New faces appear amongst them on Mayne Island (part of the Islands constituency) and no one knows whether they are from Vancouver, Steveston, or off some fishing boat on the west coast of Vancouver Island.

I am creditably informed that a month or so ago 40 Japanese arrived in the Queen Charlotte Islands from a floating cannery."

A census of Japanese in the province would provide information concerning the number who were born in British Columbia, and how many had entered since the last census, he said. It would also determine their occupation.

"We have an unemployment problem, and we are being taxed to take care of our unemployed," he said. "Does anyone suggest that a great many of our young men could not get gainful employment along the coast if it were not for Japanese competition? The time is coming when this type of Oriental competition will more closely touch the pockets of us all.

"Now is the time to start; now is the time to inform our people of the true state of affairs. In a few short years it may be too late."

Captain Macintosh suggested "neither Ottawa or Victoria has any accurate figures" of the number of Japanese in the province. He said that in a "few short years" Oriental penetration "will become vital to our very existence."

Many Gifts For Royal Couple

World Sends Wedding Presents to Farouk of Egypt and Bride-to-Be

CAIRO (AP)—Ancient Egypt and her friends throughout the world poured gifts today at the feet of King Farouk and pretty Farida Zulficar, who will become Egypt's queen tomorrow.

A camel caravan brought picturesque caskets filled with henna for Farida, who will not see the wedding ceremony herself and may have to wear in public the traditional veil of Egyptian women.

Slender, dark-eyed, 16-year-old Farida decided not to use the henna, sent by a notable Egyptian family and which since the days of the Pharoahs has been used to stain the hands and feet of brides.

Among the gifts at Koubbeh Palace—one of the seven palaces available to the 17-year-old King and his bride-to-be—were two shotguns presented by the British ambassador, Sir Miles Lampson, on behalf of King George.

The boy King was so delighted with the British monarch's gift he decided to take the shotguns with him on the honeymoon.

Farouk also received a glistening new automobile from Germany.

Cairo business was at a standstill for the ceremony which will make Farida the second Queen of Egypt since Cleopatra. Troops of Bedouins from the desert performed feats of horsemanship on the streets.

Kidnap Threat To Comedian

Los Angeles Police Seek Men Who Wrote H. Lloyd, Menacing Children

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Extortioners who threatened to "put the Lindbergh case in the discard" with a crime against the three children of Harold Lloyd, film comedian, were sought by United States government agents today after Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz had given them copies of threatening letters mailed to the actor's studio.

The extortioners demanded $6,000 from Lloyd in exchange for the safety of his family.

Biscailuz disclosed three threatening letters received by Lloyd were signed "The Organization of the Alpha and Omega."

Lloyd and his wife, the former Mildred Davis of the films, whom he married 15 years ago, have three children: Gloria, 12; Peggy, 11, and Harold Jr., 6.

The letters said the money would be used "to combat the evil your class has brought on America. You have fed a lot of worthless dogs while helpless people starved."

Addressed to Lloyd at the General Service Studios, the letters were painstakingly printed and marked "personal."

Labor Group To Elect Officers

The Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council will elect officers at its meeting tonight at the Labor Hall, Broughton and Government Streets. Nominations were opened at the last meeting and selection of president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer will be made as well as standing committees for the year.

A delegation from the Vancouver labor organization is scheduled to attend tonight's meeting according to a communication received from the local group.

You Get What You Pay For!

Comparing values in dry cleaning services is like asking how clean is clean.

Inferior dry cleaning dulls the beauty of all materials and makes it more and more difficult to restore the original freshness and color. Cheap dry cleaning is dear at any price.

Insist on Sanitone dry cleaning. It costs no more to have the added assurance that your clothes always look their best. Then you know they are spotlessly cleaned, perfectly finished. You will find it real economy, for Sanitoned garments not only look better but last longer.

THE NEW METHOD

The discovery that steel and iron can be rolled while cold, as well as while hot, was made by an accident and keen observation, about 80 years ago.

Egg white foam, once a waste by-product of the eggdrying industry, can now be saved as dried egg white, by means of a new process.

Former Mayor Passes Away

F. A. Busby of Nanaimo Died Yesterday; in Nanaimo 46 Years

LATE F. A. BUSBY

NANAIMO—After an illness of four days, F. A. Busby, former school trustee, alderman and mayor for many years, passed away in Nanaimo General Hospital yesterday.

Although in poor health for several years, Mr. Busby had been engaged in his usual pursuits until last week, attending a meeting of the School Board, of which he was a member, last Wednesday evening. News of his death came as a shock to hundreds of friends in the city.

Born in Ontario 66 years ago, Mr. Busby remained in the east until he was 20 years of age. Then the west called him and he came to British Columbia. Nanaimo was then a boom town and it attracted young Busby in 1892. He remained there the rest of his life.

For 13 years he was Mayor of Nanaimo. He first entered the city's service in 1905 when he was elected alderman. He served for nine years and in 1916 was elected mayor. He served continuously in the Chief Magistrate's chair until 1930 with the exception of 1925-26. In recent years he had interested himself in school affairs and was a member of the 1937 board.

Fraternal and church organizations interested him and in 1934 he was named president of the Nanaimo Pioneers' Society. He was a past grand lodge officer of the Order of Odd Fellows and a past grand officer of the Order of Foresters. In the old days he was prominently connected with the old Methodist Church on Wallace Street, and when union took place he was named treasurer of St. Andrew's United Church, a position he held until his death.

There survive a widow, one son, Herbert J. Busby of Nanaimo and one daughter, Mrs. C. W. Wall of Vancouver.

PATTULLO, AT 65, UNDISPUTED BOSS

sire for expansive undertakings.

Attempts were made to get his political scalp. The opposition was within the party. He fought boldly and skilfully to repulse them.

When he led the Liberal guard of eight during the Tolmie regime, he was always in supreme command. But victory in 1933 and his resumption of power, this time as premier, brought its troubles.

The province was up against it financially. Within two years there were mild upheavals in the party ranks. Criticism came from the country against government policies temporarily unpopular. Many private members, foreseeing defeat at the polls, were in dissension. His political opponents loudly predicted the end of his government.

What happened is in the history books. "Dauntless Duff" led his followers into two critical by-elections, won both of them, solidified the party ranks and went on to sweep the country again in a general election.

Out of the political hot-bed of Ontario, where he was born, tempered with the frontier spirit of the Yukon, where he spent his early days in the west, came the philosophy and driving force which kept him in control in B.C.

Some people have called him lucky. In some respects maybe he has been. He was lucky that he had to serve no apprenticeship in the back benches. He was lucky to start as a cabinet minister, not that he is the only one. He was lucky to be leading the party against a depression-harassed government in 1933. He was lucky to have his chief opposition split itself in in 1936. But it was not luck that gave him the advantage of the breaks as they came. It was not luck that made him the most spectacular opposition leader of recent times. It was not luck that led him on the most arduous campaign in B.C. history in 1933. Nor was it entirely luck that he took time by the forelock to call an early election and win a second term in 1937.

So today at 65 Premier Pattullo looks back on an exciting and active 21 years climbing the ladder. But his gaze rests for only a few brief seconds on the rungs below.

Though he lacks but five years of the Psalmist's span, his eyes are still looking upward. His "alphabetical programme" for British Columbia, laid down last session, is to become a handbook for his party. It calls for immense development and rapid progress, almost visionary in some respects, but no apologies for the past.

"We must be safe, but we must change," he said recently. "We cannot stand still."

It is this vision that makes his cabinet colleagues call him "the chief."

They know he is impetuous at times. They know he is somewhat stubborn and boldly sweeps aside interference. But they also know he is receptive to new ideas and will back them to the limit once accepted.

He commands the same respect from those employed under him. It is a respect, however, tempered with human understanding. That may account for the beautiful bowl of pink roses with which his staff decorated his desk today in honor of his birthday.

For there is a human side to him, a side the public rarely sees, since few men are so able to preserve an aura of dignity and reserve in company. He is a strange contrast to the glad-handing politician of the old school, though that was where he got his education. Some have put it down to ego, but it is rather the dignity of a man who believes in being careful and profits by the experience of others against over-confidence.

Thomas Dufferin Pattullo wants a niche in British Columbia's history. Forty years ago he headed west, a young easterner seeking broader fields. Tonight he can feel he has a grasp on that niche, and one can perhaps hear him murmur: "I do not apologize; I only give reasons."

By PETE SALLAWAY

WITH much discussion going on at the present time over the merits of the two baseballs recently adopted by the major baseball leagues, one wonders if the change in bat design has not had much to do with the liveliness of the baseball. Thirty years ago most of the big leaguers used a stick weighing 40 ounces or more, with the barrel not much larger than the handle. The average length was 34 inches. Each had one favorite weapon, and it usually lasted a number of seasons. Plenty of good ash could be put into a shillalah of those dimensions.

Most of the bludgeons swung at the present time come from the Hal Chase model, one of the first with the thinner handle and wide barrel. Babe Ruth and Rogers Hornsby were two of the first successful hard hitters to wield the thin-handled bat. The thin handle, making the bat top heavy, provides additional driving power. Now, bats in use everywhere are much lighter and most of them longer than those employed in the old days.

Lew Fonesca, promotional director of the American League, recently visited one of the larger bat factories in Louisville, and found that the biggest problem confronting manufacturers at present is providing good ash for this type of bat. Light ash with loose, porous growth does not possess the driving power of solid timber.

"Young players should remember that the shorter the bat the better the balance and the easier the handling," says Fonesca. "More compact and solid timber of reasonable weight spells driving power, balance, and easier handling for the major leaguer, so why not for the youngster?

"My recommendation is for the younger player to shorten the length of his bat to at least 34 inches, so that better ash can be used and lightness retained. But makers are asked by college and high school players for the exact model of the major leaguer as to length and circumference, and still the youngsters want their bats about four ounces lighter than those of the major leaguer."

Mel Ott ankles to the rubber with a 34-inch bat in his hands. Mickey Cochrane swung a 34½-inch stick, which was the length of the one with which the immortal Tyrus Raymond Cobb did so much damage. Willie Keeler, daddy of place-hitters, used a 31½-inch bat.

One outfit sells 90 per cent of all the bats used by major league players. Fifty-six per cent of the players use a 35-inch bat, 26 per cent a 34-inch, 12 per cent a 36-inch, and 6 per cent a 33-inch.

The average major league player uses a bat weighing approximately 36 ounces. Early in his career he used a fairly heavy stick, but after several years he reduces the weight from two to three ounces.

The largest manufacturers of bats purchase 2,000,000 pieces of ash each year. The wood is aged from 14 months to two years. To prevent chipping, a 200-pound pressure forces liquid cement into the barrel of the bat just before it is dried and finished.

This particular concern sells 1,750,000 bats each year.

Baseball is big business in more directions than one.

Smash Home Pair Of Goals; Boston Defeats Chicago

Tired Hawks Go Under 5 to 1 Before Bruins; Youngsters Star

Detroit Shakeup

January is no time for a hockey race to reach the stage where half the teams seem to have no chance for top honors. But that is just what is happening in the National League's American division.

It is becoming increasingly apparent that Boston Bruins and New York Rangers will fight it out for first position unless Bill Stewart or Jack Adams becomes a miracle man of sport.

Stewart's Chicago Black Hawks and Adams' Detroit Red Wings seem destined to battle for the third playoff spot without annoying Bruins or Rangers a great deal.

The power that will keep Bruins in a contending position was demonstrated last night as they flattened the Hawks 5 to 1 before a crowd of 10,000 in Boston. At the same time the Rangers held Bruins' margin over them to four points by defeating Montreal Canadiens 3 to 2 at New York with two overtime goals.

Meanwhile Adams threw a hint that there may be a violent shake-up in the ranks of his world champion Wings. Desperate at winning only four games in 27, the pudgy Detroit pilot is casting about among the amateurs for reinforcement.

He said last night he may sign four of them before the season is over. He already has picked up Pete Bessone from the Michigan-Ontario Amateur League and may go to the same source for Kenny Kilrea of Ottawa and Gus Geisbrecht of Pembroke Ont. Sid Able of Flin Flon, Man., and Eddie Bruneteau, 18-year-old brother of Mud Bruneteau of the Wings, are others he may sign

TOUGH SCHEDULE

The Hawks, Adams' chief opposition for the third playoff spot, looked none too good last night as Bruins hammered away at them. But they have had six games in 10 days and play two more before the week is out.

Bill Cowley scored the first and last Boston goals, Woody Dumart and Bobby Bauer got a couple of solo markers and Leroy Goldsworthy notched one in combination with Art Jackson and Dit Clapper. The lone Chicago goal was made by Mush March while Clapper was on the penalty bench.

Canadiens needed a win or a tie in New York to break their deadlock with New York Americans for second place in the Canadian division. And they probably thought they'd get at least a tie after Manager Lester Patrick of the Rangers lauded Cecil Hart of the Habitants before the game as one of the greatest managers who ever sat on a hockey bench.

Neil Colville scored early in the second period and the Flying Frenchmen knotted the count halfway through the third on Polly Drouin's goal.

A freak goal gave Rangers the advantage in overtime. Mac Colville slashed a long forward pass from his brother Neil and Wilf Cudé seemed to have blocked the puck, but he moved while flat on the ice and the disc slid into the corner of the net. Cecil Dillon scored in the sixth minute to make victory sure for the New Yorkers.

PERRY SCORES INITIAL WIN

Defeats Vines in Three-set Tennis Exhibition On Seattle Court

SEATTLE — England's Fred Perry displayed masterly court-covering ability to win his first match in the current professional tennis tour, defeating Ellsworth Vines, 6-4, 3-6, 6-1, here last night.

Vines, who previously defeated Perry at Los Angeles and San Francisco, was erratic. Perry forced him into numerous errors. Vines' Powerful service won him frequent points on aces, but Perry hit his peak in the third set to break through the American's delivery in the fourth and sixth games with almost impossible returns. Perry was steadier throughout.

Walter Senior, San Francisco, defeated Berkeley Bell, 8-6, 6-1, in the other singles exhibition. The Bald Bay City professional quickly ran out the second set after a closly-contested first set.

Perry and Bell teamed to win a doubles match from Vines and Senior, 4-6, 6-4, 8-6.

CARROLL IS AFTER ROSS

Welterweight Champ Gets $40,000 Offer to Fight in Australia

CHICAGO—The palms of the fists owned and operated by Jack Carroll, Australia's fistic pride, are itching anew for a shot at Barney Ross, world welterweight champion.

Sam Pian, co-manager of Ross, received a cable Monday making a new offer of $40,000, plus $5,000 for expenses, for Ross to meet the Australian challenger in a 15-round bout for the crown in Sydney, April 18. Charles Lucas, promoter representing a group of Sydney Sportsmen, offered to deposit $20,000 in a Chicago bank at once and pay the entire purse 24 hours before the contest.

Lucas also agreed to give Ross a return engagement in the United States, provided Carroll defeated him. He declared his latest offer was the absolute limit.

Pian, however, is holding out for $45,000, plus $7,000 for expenses, making a net total of $52,000.

Jesse Longfield Heads Cricketers

Back to the helm to pilot the Five C's Cricket Club through another season of activities, went Jesse Longfield, well-known Victoria cricketer, when he was re-elected president at the annual meeting held recently.

Herb Edwards was elected vice-president, A. W. Kerslake, secretary, and George Petch, treasurer. Eric Quainton was named the new captain and George Payne, vice-captain. George Petch will act as delegate to the Victoria and District Cricket Association, and Secretary Kerslake will be in charge of the Wednesday League eleven.

Worcester, Mass. — Danno O'Mahoney, 229, Ireland, defeated George (Dazzler) Clark, 231, Scotland, two of three falls.

Foul Claim Knocked Out

Enrico Venturi writhes and grimaces on the canvas in Madison Square Garden, New York, claiming a foul after a low blow by Henry Armstrong, featherweight champion. But Venturi was counted out for his pains, since New York has a no foul rule. As soon as the referee tolled "ten," the sufferer leaped to his feet. Armstrong had piled up a big lead before the final blow. Yesterday Venturi and his manager were suspended for 120 days by the New York boxing commission for the "unsatisfactory ending" of the bout.

Braddock Dislikes Rating of Experts

Argues Own Chances in Bout Against Tommy Farr On Friday Night

NEW YORK—Jim Braddock's fistic obituary has been written so often that while the big Jersey man prepares for his 10-round go with Tommy Farr, Friday night, Jim is taking the stand in his own defence.

He is peeved to find the experts rating his chances with Tonypandy Tommy off their respective showings against Joe Louis. The shuffler knocked Jim out in eight rounds to win the title, but went the limit against Farr to take the decision.

"When it comes to comparing us on those fights there are a couple of points that should be considered," said Jim today. "When I faced Joe it was my first fight in two years and nine days. And when you go into the ring with the title you are carrying a burden.

"Louis found the difference. Joe was a better fighter against me than against Farr, if only for the reason he had more to lose against Tommy than when he met me."

Braddock is one of the old, hard-dying race of fighters that included John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain, the first Jack Dempsey, the Nonpareil, Terry McGovern, the second Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

At his camp at Pompton Lakes, N.J., Jim wears flannel shirts and likes the heavy horseplay that Dempsey loved. He has never tried to become a movie actor, cronner or stage star. His business is fighting.

Hockey Leaders

Cecil Dillon broke his second place tie with Toronto's Syl Apps last night as two of the National Hockey League's big seven added to their scoring totals. The black thatched Ranger, scoring a goal in his team's 3 to 1 victory against Canadiens, raised his point total to 27, five behind leading Gordon Drillon of the Leafs.

The leaders follow:

	G	A	Pts
Drillon, Toronto	14	18	32
Dillon, Rangers	15	12	27
Apps, Toronto	11	15	26
Jackson, Toronto	11	13	24
Blake, Canadiens	13	8	21
Lorrain, Canadiens	8	13	21
Barry, Detroit	7	14	21

Harrisburg, Pa.—Jim Londos, 199, Greece, pinned Abe Kashey, 212, Paterson, N.J., 17.00.

Play Cup Soccer Match Saturday

Only one first division football match will be played on Saturday afternoon, with Victoria City and the Garrison playing at the Athletic Park at 2.15 in the semi-final round of the Freddy Price Memorial Cup knock-out series. W. J. Cull will referee and overtime will be played if necessary.

The City are the present holders of the trophy.

Thunderbird In Win Over Baxter

BELLINGHAM — Chief Thunderbird, 220, Saanichton, B.C., won from Laverne Baxter, 230, Hollywood, on a disqualification in last night's main event of a wrestling exhibition. Rusty Westcoat, 220, Hawaii, threw Danny Dusek, 220, Omaha, two out of three falls. Ted Keys, 205, Los Angeles, drew with Abe Yourist, 218, New York.

To Play Vines

former world amateur tennis champion and ace of the British Davis Cup team, who will meet Ellsworth Vines, United States star, in the feature match of the professional tennis exhibitions at the Armories on Friday night, starting at 8. Other players to show will be Berkeley Bell and Walter Senior. Perry and Vines will perform in a doubles match in addition to the singles engagement. The advance seat sale has assured a sell-out crowd for the event.

"Old Pete" Added To Hall of Fame

Grover Cleveland Alexander Lone Candidate Enrolled in Baseball Poll

NEW YORK—To the list of baseball immortals in the Hall of Fame, the official jury yesterday added the name of Grover Cleveland Alexander, one of the great right-handed pitchers of all time.

"Old Pete," ended a brilliantly colorful and checkered career in 1930 after nearly 20 years in the National League, was the only star to qualify for the all-time galaxy in the third annual vote by members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

With a minimum required total of 197 votes, or 75 per cent of the total cast, Alexander was the choice of 212 experts among 262.

Finishing short were George Sisler, famous first baseman of St. Louis Browns in the 1920's; Wee Willie Keeler, great outfielder who spanned the century's turn in National League company, and Eddie Collins, long-time king of second basemen with the Athletics and White Sox.

The first five choices were Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Christy Mathewson, Hans Wagner and Walter Johnson. Last year Nap Lajoie, Tris Speaker and Cy Young were added.

Alexander's right to join baseball's most celebrated company, for historical purposes, is backed up by a remarkable pitching record, spread over the period of 1911 to 1930 with the Phillies, Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Cardinals.

"Alex the Great" came to the majors by way of Galesburg, Ill., and Syracuse, N.Y., when Mathewson was the king pitcher of the National League.

GREAT RECORD

Alexander won 28 games in his first major league season, still a modern record for a freshman. He won 30 or more games in three consecutive years, 1915-17, a feat achieved only by the immortal Matty in this century. Although he never pitched a no-hitter, Alex set an all-time record by hurling four one-hit victories in 1915.

Some of Alexander's other records included: Most National League games pitched (696) and won (373); a major league mark, shared with Walter Johnson, of leading his league in the number of complete games pitched for six years; a National League earned run mark of 1.22 for pitchers working in 250 innings or more; 90 shutouts, a lifetime league record, and 16 white-washings in one season, 1916, for a major league mark.

Alexander pitched in three World Series, but is best remembered for his heroic relief role in 1926 when he emerged from the bullpen in the rain at Yankee Stadium to save the seventh and final game for St. Louis Cardinals. Legend persists "Old Pete," who had pitched and won the sixth game to tie the count at 3 to 3, was dozing when summoned unexpectedly in the seventh inning to face Tony Lazzeri, with two out, the bases filled, and the Cardinals fighting to hold a 3 to 2 lead.

Alexander trudged to the box, calmly surveyed the situation, and struck out Lazzeri on three pitched balls. The balance of the game was anti-climax as "Old Pete" finished his job in business-like fashion. The Yankees have not lost a world series since then.

Alexander was born at St. Paul, Neb., in 1887.

Inside Egyptian Tombs

When an Egyptian built a tomb for himself, he took great interest in the work. He wanted the best possible home for his mummy.

We can fancy an Egyptian saying to himself:

"My life on earth will last perhaps 40 or 50 years, but it is not important compared with the thousands of years my mummy will spend in the tomb!"

Scenes on wall of Tomb of Ty.

Nobles and rich men, as well as kings, made ready for death long before death came. There was, for example, Ptah-hopte, whose tomb I visited the other day.

Ptah-hopte lived about 4,800 years ago and was a high officer of the Egyptian government. His wealth must have been very great, judging by his tomb.

The tomb contains half a dozen underground rooms besides the one designed to hold the great man's coffin. At least one or two of the extra rooms seem to have been meant for burial of other members of the family.

As I passed through the halls and rooms of Ptah-hopte's tomb, I saw scores of pictures on the walls. The pictures show scenes in the everyday life of ancient Egypt.

Farm workers are watering grape vines, picking grapes, and trampling juice from grapes with their feet. For my part I would not care to drink grape juice obtained in that way, but it was the old custom.

In another picture, hunters are seen with greyhounds and tame lions. One lion has attacked a wild bull. Boats on the Nile, fishermen, livestock, and many other objects are displayed on other walls.

Ptah-hopte himself is pictured in several places. One image of him is about five feet high, and right next to it is the figure of another man only 15 inches high. Egyptian artists made the most important person in a picture look far larger than anyone else.

An interesting scene contains the picture of Ptah-hopte's "chief sculptor," an elderly man eating his lunch in a boat. This is believed to be the image of the artist who decorated the tomb.

Another famous tomb at Sakkara was built for a man named Ty. The main room is 15 feet high, 16 feet wide, and 23 feet long. The walls are richly decorated with pictures of Ty and his family. The rich man looks at harvest scenes on his farm, and watches boat builders work. He sails along the Nile, and watches dancers and singers perform. In most scenes his wife (who is made to look very small compared with him) is by Ty's side.

It is supposed that the pictures in the tomb were made to give Ty's spirit, or double, pleasant things to look at when it came back to visit the tomb.

Art of Cooking Paramount to Girls | Man's Appetite Never Fails

A YOUNG GIRL ASKS ME to tell her why she should learn how to cook. There are about a million good reasons why every woman should acquire skill in juggling the pots and pans, one of which is, as Owen Meredith said long ago, because we can live without music, poetry and art, but civilized man can't live without cooks.

That makes a knowledge of how to prepare food the very foundation stone of a girl's education. Every woman finds that no matter what her position in life, no matter what business or profession she goes into, no matter how many other things she knows, the one thing that she always needs to know is how to cook.

A girl should learn how to cook because, if she does, she has a trade by which she can always support herself if need be. In times of depression the market may be glutted with actresses and writers and interior decorators and stenographers and office women, but there are never enough first-class cooks to go around. Moreover, even in its lower brackets the salary of the cook compares favorably with other female laborers, considering that she gets her lodging free and eats as well as her employer does, while the salary of a woman chef entitles her to groan over the income tax.

Furthermore, a good cook is the autocrat of whatever household she deigns to bless with her presence. A woman may not hesitate to tell her husband of his faults and where he gets off. A man may be grumpy and grouchy with the girls in his office and always threatening to fire them. But they walk humbly before the goddess of the kitchen who has but to wave her magic wand and the feasts of Lucullus appear upon their table. She is the one woman in the world who is never afraid of losing her job.

In domestic life a knowledge of how to cook is the answer to the problem of how to retain a husband's affections. In time beauty fades, passion dulls of satiety, wise-cracking gets to be a bore, even love wears down into a habit, but a man's appetite never fails. It is the one thing to which a woman can always appeal, and thus it is that you seldom hear of a man wandering away from his own fireside after having partaken of a dinner of the things he likes, prepared just the way he likes them.

Nor do you hear once in a blue moon of a husband getting tired and losing his taste for a wife who is a superlative cook. The way to domesticate men, as other wild animals, is by feeding them. Any husband will continue to eat out of his wife's hand as long as she keeps good food in it.

But the paramount reason why every girl should learn how to cook is because the health and efficiency and prosperity of her family is going to depend upon how she feeds it. How the children turn out and whether or not the husband is a success is just as much the result of Mother's cooking as any natural talents they may possess.

Many a child is rated stupid at school because he is filled up on soggy cereals. Many a boy takes to drink because he is undernourished from lack of good, wholesome, well-cooked food and feels the need of a stimulant. Many a man loses out in life because his wife's bad cooking has turned him into such a dyspeptic that he can't get along with anybody and made him so pessimistic that he is afraid to go into any new venture.

We are shocked when we read the papers about a woman poisoning her husband's children, but the one who feeds her family on watery soups, overdone meat, underdone vegetables and heavy bread poisons them just as surely as if she had flavored their food with Rough on Rats.

On the other hand, the woman who is a good cook builds for her children and husband strong healthy bodies with which to fight the world, and clear brains with which to think. She gives them the courage and optimism that only the well fed can have. She puts into them the pep that comes from overflowing vitality. You will seldom find an invalid or a neurotic in the family of a good cook, and her husband will still be going strong long after the husband of the woman who didn't know how to cook has had a breakdown.

These, my dear little girl, are some of the reasons why every girl should learn to cook.

Manitoba Adds To Its Outlays

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Manitoba government's list of 1938 fiscal year expenditures, tabled when the Legislature resumed its sessions Tuesday, calls for $15,110,417, an increase of $467,868 compared with the 1937 budget.

Increased allotments for departments for the year, May 1, 1938, to April 30, 1939, included Department of Education $79,600, Agriculture and Immigration $40,290, Health and Public Welfare $118,400, Public Works $249,657, and Old Age Pensions for the Blind $41,715.

A Championship Hand

Declarer Found Himself With Fewer Trumps Than Opponent, But Forced Out a Little Slam

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY

Harry J. Fishbein of New York, who with Mrs. Samuel Rush won the mixed pair championship at the National Championships Tournament in Washington last December, gained some of the match points giving him his championship by the way he played a slam in spades, with the West player holding five spades, and his own hand only four after the second lead.

West: ♠ 8 7 5 4 3 ♥ 10 4 ♦ 7 ♣ K 8 7 6 4

East: ♠ None ♥ 9 3 2 ♦ K 9 8 6 5 2 ♣ A J 10 9

5 ♠	Pass	6 ♠	Pass

The club return was ruffed, and Fishbein laid down one round of trumps, and got the bad news that West held one more trump than he did. He now cashed the heart ace, as there was no chance to make the hand if West should be blank in hearts.

His next play was unusual. Before continuing hearts, he laid down the ace of diamonds and then continued to lead hearts. West soon found that he was helpless. If he trumped, dummy would overtrump, and a trump return would pick up the West trumps and give South his contract.

If Fishbein had not cashed the diamond ace before leading out his hearts, West could have discarded his lone diamond. West eventually ruffed, dummy overruffed and returned a trump, and the hand was made.

This hand caused lots of trouble for the experts. Obviously, play in hearts is impossible, against a spade opening which East will ruff, and then cash the club ace. This, in fact, is just what happened to one expert.

Contract Problem

(Solution in next issue)

The bidding has gone: West one spade, North two hearts, East three clubs, South pass, and West six clubs. In South's position, would you open a heart, your partner's bid suit, or would you suggest some other lead?

CITY RELIEF COSTS DOWN

December and Annual Totals Well Below 1937, Figures Show

The reduction in the number of families receiving relief during December in Victoria accounted for an expenditure drop of $6,161.21 from the total for December, 1936, despite the allowance of a special Christmas grant, amounting to $1,430.60, according to figures announced by the relief department today.

Family units were given $16,238.43 last month, against $22,399.64 in December of the preceding year.

Cost of relief for single unemployed last month were down $133.76 in comparison to those of the similar month last year. Totals were $5,949.97 last month, against $6,183.73 in December, 1936.

In each department totals were higher than during the preceding November. Costs for family units amounted to $15,326.52 and for single unemployed $5,424.89. Without the Christmas bonuses, the aggregate for December would have been lower than in November.

Yearly costs for 1937 stood at a figure lower than any previously recorded since the inception of the present system in 1932.

Family units and single received an aggregate of $291,944.62 last year, against $356,981.33 in 1936. The aggregate 1937 figure represents $224,378.65 for family units and $67,565.97 for single.

Single costs have steadily increased from 1934, while married costs have gone down. The costs of direct city charges, for which Victoria pays 100 per cent, also rose last year. They are included in the aggregate totals cited above.

Seek Rulings On New Labor Law

VANCOUVER — Delegates to the Vancouver and New Westminster District Trades and Labor Council meeting here last night instructed their executive to thresh out interpretation of the new Industrial Disputes Act with Hon. G. S. Pearson, British Columbia Minister of Labor.

The action was taken after representatives of the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' Union said Mr. Pearson had refused their request for an inquiry into dismissal of three employees of the Chanticleer Cafe here for alleged union activities and had asked for direct instructions from the employees affected.

Early Start By Oak Bay Board

Trustees Hold First Meeting Nomination Day; R. W. Murdoch Chairman

Oak Bay's 1938 school board, with its three vacancies filled by acclamation at the close of nominations in the municipality Monday afternoon, got away to an early start by holding its first meeting the same evening.

Trustee R. W. Murdoch, one of two retiring members who were returned, was unanimously chosen as chairman on a motion of Trustee Walter M. Walker, seconded by Trustee Hew Paterson. The 1938 chairman, Trustee S. J. Drake, retired from municipal affairs at the end of the year because of the pressure of private business. His place has been taken by a newcomer to municipal office, Trustee Colin H. Rutherford.

Trustees Murdoch, Rutherford and Charles Nickerson, also returned to the board, were sworn in by R. F. Blandy, returning officer, prior to the meeting.

The trustees decided to hold a special meeting next Monday night to start consideration of their estimates for the year.

The following committees were appointed by the chairman.

Finance—Trustees Walker and Paterson.

Building and grounds—Trustees Nickerson and Rutherford.

Fifteen motorists who left their cars parked in the business section for more than an hour, in contravention of the parking by-law, were each fined $2.50 in the City Police Court this morning.

Inspector William Gray, head of the government's committee surveying the school system of Greater Victoria, said today members of the board will return next Tuesday to hear representations from public bodies on the question. Hearings were announced for yesterday and today but no delegations appeared.

An Esquimalt street car and a Kingham-Gillespie coal truck were damaged in an accident last night on Bay Street, according to a police report. The truck, driven by Norman Alexander, 1112 Balmoral Road, was parked momentarily at the entrance to the coal yard with the rear protruding over the car tracks. It was struck by the street car, operated by Ernest Bukin.

Ernest A. Lewis was permitted to go on suspended sentence and Dave Smith was sentenced to 10 days' imprisonment by Magistrate Henry Hall in the City Police Court this morning after pleading guilty yesterday to charges of vagrancy. Lewis said he had come to Victoria to interview government relief officials about being sent to camp and the court was informed this morning this was the case.

GARDINER AGAIN HEADS FARMERS

EDMONTON (CP) — Robert Gardiner of Excel, Alta., was unanimously re-elected president of the United Farmers of Alberta here today as the 30th annual convention adopted a resolution on which a vote will be taken to determine the future political policy of the organization.

Mr. Gardiner was elected to his eighth consecutive term as president. He promised to carry on the duties seriously and earnestly and to maintain the democratic principles of the U.F.A.

Most of the morning was spent in debate on the form of ballot on which the vote will be taken on future political policy.

Traces of Oil In Gaspe Region

QUEBEC (CP)—Definite traces of oil have been found in the Gaspe peninsula and the district possibly will become a valuable oil producing centre, Mgr. F. X. Ross, Bishop of Gaspe, said on his arrival here on diocesan business.

Geologists have been in Gaspe almost a year investigating the possibility of oil production in the peninsula, A. O. Dufresne, Quebec director of mines, said Monday.

Six Months For Escape Effort

Half-year Added to Sentence of Thos. Schaeffer For Jail Break

Six months was added to the three-year penitentiary term imposed on Thomas Schaeffer, convicted and sentenced on a breaking and entering charge, when he pleaded guilty to breaking jail with Theodore Carveth on January 12, in speedy trial before Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court today.

Brought into court for election, the accused, represented by H. W. Davey, entered a guilty plea to the jail break count.

Mr. Davey sought concurrent sentence for the accused, stating he was a young man of 22 and still had an opportunity to rehabilitate himself when he was released from prison.

Evidence in the police court had disclosed Schaeffer had taken no part in the planning or execution of the jail break other than that of taking advantage of an opportunity when it presented itself.

W. B. Lawson drew the court's attention to the fact that Schaeffer had declined to stop when, as a fugitive, he had been challenged by the police. It was only after shots had been fired that he was taken into custody. He did not think it proper, under the circumstances, to permit sentence to run concurrently.

STUDY CUT ON T.B. CHARGES

Effects of New Regulation to Be Investigated By City

Implications of the new provincial government ruling which reduces charges made against municipalities for treatment of tuberculosis cases for which they are held responsible from $1.25 to 80 cents a day, were due for study at the City Hall today.

Announcement of the change in charges, retroactive to April 1, 1937, was conveyed to the city in a letter above the signature of Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, received today at the City Hall.

The purpose of the reduction, which affects treatment of city cases in tuberculosis units approved by the province, was to implement the promise of $80,000 aid to municipalities this year forecast in the message of the Minister of Finance in 1936, the letter stated.

NO DOMINION ELECTION MOVE

Prime Minister King Says Reports of Early Polling Are Unfounded

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister King believes nothing will arise "within the next year or two" to necessitate a general election.

Referring to reports the government was considering the possibility of an election this year, the Prime Minister Tuesday evening said: "I don't want the people to get the impression there is any uncertainty on this point."

No government since Confederation had enjoyed as much support in the House of Commons as the present administration, the Prime Minister told a large group of parliamentary correspondents after Tuesday afternoon's cabinet meeting. "I don't think any government since Confederation has so completely held the confidence of the people," he declared, "and I say that advisedly."

Copies of the proposed amendment to the British North America Act to empower the Dominion to initiate and administer a national unemployment insurance measure were forwarded today to the provincial Premiers for their consideration.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A research engineering firm, O. F. Lundelius and L. R. Eccleston, Tuesday filed a patent infringement suit against distributors of automobiles with "knee action," demanding profits estimated at $25,000,000.

The suit charges "knee action" cars distributed by the defendants embody a steering mechanism infringing their patent.

Suits would be filed covering distribution in Canada and the United States since 1934, Lundelius and Eccleston said.

200 B.C. MEN IN SPAIN WAR

Plans Made to Send Comforts to Canadian Volunteers

Two hundred men from British Columbia are fighting in the Spanish civil war, it was stated last night at a meeting in the James Bay C.C.F. Hall, when the objects of the Victoria branch of the Friends of the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion were explained.

Plans were made to organize regular meetings to raise funds in Victoria for the Canadian volunteers.

Fred Fox explained the Mackenzie-Papineau fund and later gave an illustrated lecture on "The War in Spain."

The object of the fund, Mr. Fox said, was to provide comforts to Canadian men fighting in Spain in the Mackenzie-Papineau Battalion. This battalion consists of approximately 1,000 Canadians fighting under the loyalists. There are 200 British Columbia volunteers in this unit who will benefit by the contributions sent.

The sum of $1,000 was sent before Christmas, and it is hoped that more will be sent in the near future.

Slides depicting the horrors of the Spanish war were shown by Mr. Fox, who also spoke on modern wartime gases and their ghastly effects, which are being experienced in Spain today.

A collection was taken up at the close of the meeting.

Securities Act Wins Approval

Attorney-General Wismer Tells Vancouver Board of Trade of Gains

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Securities Act, passed at the last session of the British Columbia Legislature, was termed Tuesday by Attorney-General G. S. Wismer, one of the most important acts passed in the province. He was speaking at a meeting of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

It was a change from the ancient practice of "let the buyer beware" and it met the present popular demand for some type of security legislation, he said.

Mr. Wismer said the act would protect the investor and public generally, but would not prevent the flow of capital into the province for legitimate enterprises.

From all parts of the province the speaker said he had received commendation for the clause in the act which prohibits house-to-house canvass for the sale of stocks, which he said was in the past responsible for many people losing their money in fraudulent schemes.

Trapper Missing In Manitoba

Dick Madole, Prospector of Sherritt-Gordon Mine Fame, Disappeared

CRANBERRY PORTAGE, Man. (CP) — Disappearance of Dick Madole, picturesque trapper of Manitoba's north country, remained a mystery today, despite efforts of a search party launched by fellow trappers.

Madole, one of the original partners in the Sherritt-Gordon mine development of northern Manitoba, was reported missing by Miss Edith Metcalfe who arrived at this settlement, 60 miles north of The Pas, on her way to Winnipeg after visiting at Granville Lake on the Churchill River, where Madole had his cabin.

Miss Metcalfe said the 60-year-old trapper, with a dog team, had left for an inspection of his trap line. The dogs returned alone, entangled in their harness.

The old prospector was born in Iowa and spent 27 years in the northland. He received $86,000 for his share in the Sherritt-Gordon Mine, but lost his "stake," and within two years was back on a trap line.

Letters to the Editor

CITY BOND PRINTING PRICES

To the Editor:—On behalf of the Victoria Printing Pressmen's Union we find it very necessary to refute the statements made by the mayor and Alderman Morgan, on behalf of the finance committee, at the council meeting held on Monday last, and as quoted in Tuesday's Times, regarding the cost of printing an issue of bonds in Victoria as against that of an eastern firm.

The statement that there would be a possibility of the bonds costing in the neighborhood of $25,000 if printed in Victoria is preposterous in the extreme. The mayor and aldermen should be well aware of this. When Alderman Morgan, on behalf of the finance committee, quoted one bond issue printed for the city by a local firm costing $2.40 per bond, he neglected to quote the number of bonds ordered. That order was for 238 bonds, according to his statement. He is comparing the price of that order with the order in question, consisting of 12,639 bonds. We would suggest that he be fair and quote prices paid for other issues of bonds printed in Victoria, the quantity of which never exceeded 1,000, and were priced as low as 49c each, according to his own statements to a committee of this union. Any business man knows that in the ordering of printing, as of other things, the larger the quantity ordered the lower the price. For example: The city recently ordered 100,000 water bills and were given a price of approximately $1.10 per thousand. If they had ordered only 1,000 the cost would have been approximately $7.50. The same reduction of cost in relation to quantity applies to bonds as well as to water bills.

The printing firms of Victoria are reputable business firms and we feel that the statement of the mayor that the council was not justified in "making Victoria a Christmas tree from which $25,000 could be picked as a present for a local firm," may have left the impression with the public that exhorbitant prices are being charged in Victoria. With the information which we have given in this letter we hope that if any such impression has been created, it may be removed.

President.

IN MEMORIAM

RAMSAY—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mahala Ramsay, who passed away January 20, 1937.

A loving mother, so gentle and kind,
What a wonderful memory she left behind;
Long days, long nights, she bore her pain,
To wait for cure, but all in vain,
Till God himself knew what was best,
He took her home and gave her rest.

LOSSES FORCE HIGHER RATES

But Vancouver Island Exempt From Changes in Car Insurance Fees

VANCOUVER—H. G. M. Wilson, manager of the automobile branch of the British Columbia Insurance Underwriters' Association announced yesterday automobile insurance rates had been increased in certain classifications and for certain districts of British Columbia. The new rates became effective Monday.

For commercial automobiles in the interior of British Columbia collision rates have been raised 25 per cent for the $25, $50 and $100 deductible collision classifications.

Rates for interurban transports for all British Columbia exclusive of Vancouver Island have been raised 15 per cent for public liability and property damage.

ISLAND UNCHANGED

No change has been made in the private passenger and commercial car rates on Vancouver Island, except in the case of logging trucks. There has been a slight increase in collision rates for this class of truck throughout the province.

Increase in the rates has been necessary because of the number and severity of the losses incurred, Wilson said.

In Vancouver, New Westminster and adjacent districts, the public liability rate for private passenger cars had been raised 10 per cent and 25 per cent for the $100 deductible collision classification.

For commercial automobiles operating in the same district the rate has been raised 15 per cent of public liability.

GRETA GARBO IN "CONQUEST"

Co-starred With Charles Boyer in Drama Now at the Atlas

Mounted with a spectacular lavishness, directed with that perfection of detail for which Clarence Brown has become famous, "Conquest," in which the incomparable Swedish actress is co-starred with Charles Boyer, opens today on the Atlas screen as one of the most powerful and moving photoplays the screen has offered in a decade.

In this poignant and convincing story of a romantic epoch in the life of the power-impassioned Napoleon Bonaparte, the brilliant Garbo demonstrates once again her power to mould herself into a totally different characterization. As the patriotic Countess Marie Walewsk, who enters Napoleon's life first in order to win him over to the side of her beloved Poland, and secondly because she falls in love with him, Garbo exceeds in vividness and warmth any role she has ever previously portrayed, including her triumphant "Camille."

ALICE FAYE LEADS CAST

"You're a Sweetheart," Musical Comedy, Showing at Capitol

Opening day at the Capitol Theatre is the brilliant musical comedy, "You're a Sweetheart," starring the popular Alice Faye, with a big cast of selected players and specialty acts.

Produced by B. G. DeSylva and directed by David Butler, the George Murphy, song and dance man, in the principal supporting role, with a cast that includes Ken Murray and Oswald of screen and radio fame, William Gargan, Andy Devine, Charles Winninger, Donald Meek, Frank Jenks, David Oliver and Frances Hunt, newcomer to the screen from the airways where she was featured with Benny Goodman's swing band and with Vincent Lopez's orchestra.

The picture marks the first appearance of the Novelle Brothers, bird imitators, the Five Playboys, Maida and Ray and Edna Sedgwick, the fastest toe dancer in the world. Seen also in a specialty spot is Casper Reardon, swing harpist.

PLAZA SHOWS SEALING STORY

Seal hunting in the primitive Bering Sea country is depicted in Columbia's new Jack Holt picture, "North of Nome," which opens at the Plaza Theatre tomorrow. It is a graphic story of poachers and hijackers, and a romance that involves a wealthy girl shipwrecked with friends on an island inhabited by a poacher.

Playing opposite Holt, is Evelyn Venable, returning to the screen after a year's absence devoted to motherhood. In other feature roles are to be found Guinn "Big Boy" Williams, lately seen in Holt's "End of the Trail"; John Miljan, Roger Imhoff, Paul Hurst, Dorothy Appleby and Robert Gleckler.

William Nigh directed "North of Nome." Houston Branch's story was adapted to the screen by Albert DeMond.

Pretty Ruth Coleman carries the feminine romantic lead opposite Lew Ayres in "The Crime Nobody Saw," the mystery which will be the second feature.

"Victoria the Great" Coming to Capitol

Anton Walbrook, who plays Prince Albert in "Victoria the Great," co-starred with Anna Neagle, England's favorite screen player, hails from Vienna, and enjoys a brilliant reputation as a portrayer of powerful dramatic roles. Herbert Wilcox, who produced the film for RKO Radio pictures in England, had hundreds of capable actors to select from, but found none exactly suitable for his purpose, until he came in contact with Walbrook. Not only because of his dramatic ability, but due to the fact that he resembled in build and face the queen's consort. Walbrook proved an ideal choice for the part.

"Victoria the Great" is coming to the Capitol Theatre Saturday.

OAK BAY THEATRE

The old-fashioned spelling-bee became one of the principal "between-take" diversions on the Warner Bros. lot within the last couple of months.

The back-swing of the pendulum to the amusement of a bygone decade was inspired by a strawberry festival on the set of "Mr. Dodd Takes the Air," the Kenny Baker starring vehicle which Mervyn LeRoy produced at Warner Bros. and which is now playing at the Oak Bay Theatre.

DOMINION THEATRE

A spirited romance between a young orchestra leader and a girl who is the featured singer with his band forms the basis of the plot of "Hitting a New High," Lily Pons' latest musical film from RKO Radio, now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

John Howard plays opposite Miss Pons in the romantic lead. Eric Blore and Edward Everett Horton carry the brunt of the picture's comedy along with Jack Oakie.

Oppose Canal Toll Exemption

U.S. War Department Joins in Opposition to McAdoo Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States War Department joined the State Department today in opposing legislation to exempt American vessels engaged in the intercoastal trade from paying Panama Canal tolls.

War Secretary Woodring advised the Senate Interoceanic Canals Committee the proposed legislation by Senator McAdoo, Democrat, California, would provide a subsidy for American ships operating in the protected intercoastal trade "on an unsound basis." If such a subsidy were planned, he said, many factors should be considered.

The State Department earlier this week objected to the McAdoo bill on the grounds it would violate treaty obligations with Great Britain guaranteeing equal rights to all nations using the canal.

Chains Are Placed Under Ship's Keel

Plans Proceeding Today For Righting of Overturned Beulah

Heavy chain cables have been placed completely around the hull of the motorship Beulah by the Pacific Salvage Company preliminary to righting the vessel.

The port side forward of amidships was above water off the Canadian National docks at Ogden Point early today. She was still well down by the stern, but appeared to be swinging slightly to the action of the tide.

The chains were carried under the keelson by divers and made fast to the port rail.

When the time is ready for righting the ship, power purchase will be taken on the chains from the starboard side and there is every reason to believe that the Beulah will come back to an even keel without serious difficulty.

Steel cables, it is expected, will be used to keep the vessel from again keeling over when she is brought to the surface.

AWKWARD CARGO

The nature of the cargo still beneath the sealed hatches is a problem that has to be taken into consideration by the salvors in making their calculations.

There were some 2,000 drums of gasoline, oil and asphalt in the holds of the Beulah and this is still below decks with the exception of 300 drums which were removed before the vessel was sealed tight for the salvage operations.

The oil drums are believed to be floating about in the holds, and this fact would have a tendency to affect the buoyancy of the ship. The 400 drums of asphalt, particularly heavy freight, with the oil engines located in the after part of the ship, would tend to keep her down by the stern.

The preparations for the righting of the Beulah are going steadily ahead, and it is expected that the next attempt will be made towards the latter part of the week.

Tears contain a chemical known as lysozyme, probably the most powerful germ killer in the world.

Canadian Express Business Gains

MONTREAL — Reflecting the market betterment in general and business conditions throughout Canada during 1937, the volume of traffic handled by the Canadian National Express, over the Canadian National Railways and other lines on which it operates, showed a substanital increase over the traffic volume handled during 1936, according to a statement issued today by G. E. Bellerose, general manager. The increase was not confined to any one territory, he said, but was fairly general over the entire country.

While the major proportion of the improvement was due to an increase in the volume of general merchandise traffic, there were also fair increases in the movements of fresh and salt water fish, domestic and foreign fruit as well as other perishables usually transported by express. Mr. Bellerose pointed out that a substantial reduction in charges of packages weighing two to 25 pounds destined to points reached by express companies in Canada was placed in effect on December 20, 1937, by the Canadian National and all other express companies operating in Canada. There were corresponding reductions in charges on heavier packages moving between transcontinental points.

"So far as can be foreseen at this date," Mr. Bellerose said, "the prospects of increased express business during 1938 appear to be fairly good."

RESTORER AT MIDWAY

Victoria's cableship Restorer, homebound from Singapore, reached Midway Island today, according to a a cable message received by Mrs. C. M. Fleming from her husband, commander of the vessel.

Capt. Fleming intimated there would be about 10 days' work at Midway, but gave no intimation as to when the cableship would return to this port. She has been away since last summer and has been busily engaged in making repairs to the trans-Pacific cable at four widely-separated points.

The Commercial Pacific Cable Company's ship first carried out repairs to the cable 240 miles from Shanghai. Then she went to Singapore to do some cable retaping and then to Manila, where some work was carried out 40 miles off shore.

From the Philippines the Restorer headed across the Pacific to Miday cable station and Pan-American Airways base.

NIAGARA OUTBOUND

Canadian-Australasian liner Niagara, Capt. Arthur T. Toten, will put to sea this evening on her outward voyage to Auckland and Sydney via Honolulu and Suva.

The liner is expected to reach Pier 2 and 4 this afternoon from Vancouver, and is posted to sail about 5.30.

The Niagara is taking out 195 passengers in all classes, including 50 in the first class.

The chief shipments of her cargo are canned salmon, automobiles and paper. Part of the paper cargo was loaded when the ship was inbound, and additional consignments will be lifted here today.

GRANT IN TODAY

No change was reported this morning in the arrival of Ss. President Grant from Orient ports.

Captain H. B. Clark expects to make quarantine about 5.30 and should berth his ship at Pier 2, Rithet docks, about 7 this evening.

The Grant has an undetermined amount of cargo for Victoria, but she is expected to get away about midnight for Seattle.

The ships passenger list is light.

Aboard the liner are several members of the crew of Ss. President Hoover, stranded at Hoishoto Island, Formosa. The inquiry into the stranding of the Dollar liner in the Orient will be resumed following the arrival of the crew members at Seattle.

COWICHAN LOADINGS

British freighter Jevington Court, now less than 300 miles out, is expected at Cowichan Bay Saturday to load lumber for the United Kingdom. King Bros. also report the freighter Point Lobos due at Cowichan Bay this week to load lumber for the British West Indies.
